Hush, Little Baby.

Somebody Must Be Rich.
We Must Learn, Rev. Sir.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

The president invites business to take its mind off Washington, "free from apprehension of sudden frightening developments," and attend to its knitting.

To big business that message sounds like the voice of a mother singing, "Go to sleep, my baby, mamma won't let the bl[illegible] man get you."

The black man in this case is radicalism.

But, unhappily, you can't keep a bad radical down. New York radicals hired the Metropolitan opera house for a "musical fete" and then sang "The Internationale." That's a revolutionary hymn, containing the preposterous suggestion that all men are equal, and they should divide property on a communist basis.

You haven't heard the worst. Those radicals actually sang, stamped their feet and told what they would do to "capitalistic government," sitting right in the exclusive boxes of the opera house's "diamond horseshoe.

That's where fashionable ladies sit in the season, with ropes of pearls around their necks, diamond "stomachers" over their little solar plexuses, diamond tiaras on their heads, innocently imagining themselves quite different from their African sister with a piece of bone stuck through her lower lip. And, that's where the husbands sit behind the pearls and diamonds, wondering what they will do to the stock market next day.

Can you imagine radicals selecting such a hallowed spot for their manifestation? It reminds you of gruesome spirits that "did squeak and gibber" in the streets of Rome.

The next time anybody asks "how do things look?" you can reply "well somebody has got money."

The turnover by check in New York's banks on a single day last week was one billion six hundred and ninety-seven million dollars, breaking the highest record previously held by London.

You have read about that single check for $140,000,000, [illegible] on record, paid by Clarence [illegible] of Dillon, Read & Co. for [illegible] Dodge motor business.

Our business men are doing things on a big scale. And they must operate in a big way if they want to compete with Europe, where whole nations go into business on a national scale.

Individual concerns here, like Judge Gary's steel company, Mr. Rockefeller's oil concern, Henry Ford's automobile business eclipse by 100 per cent or more any similar individual or national business anywhere else in the world. The thing to do is to hold that supremacy. Business counts.

Dean Inge of St. Paul's, London, says an autocracy like that of Germany is better than any democracy, especially in an emergency. He mentions the wonders accomplished by Germany during the war, holding off for five years Russia, France, England, Belgium, Canada, Australia, Japan, etc., including Italy and the United States part of the time.

The Very Rev. Inge says the weak spot in German autocracy was the kaiser. That's it. You cannot have autocracy without an autocrat, and your autocrat is the accident of birth. You may have a strong man in one reign, a half idiot blusterer in an-

200 MEN JOBLESS AS FIRE DESTROYS SEWER PIPE PLANT IN IRONDALE

Blaze Sweeps No. 1 Unit, Five-story Frame Structure, of East Ohio Company Sunday Afternoon, Causing Loss Estimated at $300,000, Partly Covered by Insurance.

TWO MEN, TRAPPED WHEN FLAMES CUT OFF STAIRWAYS, LEAP TO SAFETY

Spontaneous Combustion is Believed to Have Caused Fire Which Razes One of Village's Chief Industries on Eve of Resumption of Operations in Full—Plan to Rebuild.

Fire, believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion, destroyed plant No. 1, a five-story structure, 100x300 feet of the East Ohio Sewer Pipe company at Irondale at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon causing a loss estimated at $300,000.

Two hundred men are jobless as a result of the blaze, which spread with such rapidity, that the plant was in ruins within a half hour after the fire was discovered in the engine r oom by Engineer William Frampton.

George Saltsman and another member of an eight-man repair crew, at work in the building, were trapped on the third floor when the flames cut off the stairway. They made their way to the second floor, leaped from a window to the roof of the boiler house and hen dropped to the ground. Neither was injured.

With Irondale without an organized fire department, the only means of fighting the blaze was equipment at the sewer pipe plant. One line of hose was turned on the flames, but the fire gained such headway that it was destroyed before a second line of hose could be attached to a water plug.

Operate No. 2 Plant.

Preparations were being made to resume operations in full at the No. 1 plant today. During the last several weeks, the plant, one of the chief industries of the village, has been running on a part time basis.

The East Ohio Sewer Pipe company of which William Banfield, of Steubenville, is president, operates another unit in Irondale.

Fred Owesney, manager of the fire-swept plant, which was the original unit erected in Irondale by the company, is in Stanton, Va., for the benefit of his health.

William Williams, of Irondale, is the plant superintendent.

Officials of the company said that steps probably would be taken to rebuild the plant as soon as insurance, which partly covers the loss, is adjusted.

About 200 men are employed in the No. 2 plant.

FATHER UPSETS CUPID'S PLANS

Contemplated Elopement of Sisters Thwarted in Chester.

The timely arrival of the father and two brothers of two pretty Youngstown girls, sisters, aged 16 and 18 years, at a Chester restaurant early this morning, halted a contemplated double elopement which was to have culminated at New Cumberland.

The two girls and their would-be husbands left Youngstown late yesterday afternoon for New Cumberland, where they intended to marry without the consent of the parents of the brides-elect. The father, becoming suspicious, when the girls did not return home at an early hour this morning, started toward East Liverpool in pursuit of his daughters, whom he believed to be headed for West Virginia's Gretna green, New Cumberland.

Following a trail that led across the bridge into Chester, the father found the two girls eating breakfast in the Weldon restaurant, Carolina avenue, at 7 o'clock. Their two gentlemen friends had driven their machine to a gasoline filling station less than 200 feet away to obtain gas, leaving their brides-elect in the restaurant.

The two sisters were placed in their father's car and started back to Youngstown. The young men, chagrined, also returned to Youngstown, but in their own car.

"DOC" STORK BEAT FREQUENT PATH TO EAST LIVERPOOL DURING LAST YEAR

Ceramic City Sets Pace in Births for State, With Middletown Second, is Report of Columbus Statisticians.

If Cleveland and Toledo and some of the other big cities of Ohio don't watch out, they will find some day that population figures of some of the smaller Ohio towns are beginning to threaten.

This may be merely another hollow statement, but Columbus statisticians who make it their business to check up on every visit of the famous "Doc" Stork, have learned that in Ohio the "Doctor" in 1924 beat a frequent path to East Liverpool and Middletown, while the trips to Cleveland and Toledo fell off.

There were 658 new babies taken to East Liverpool by him last year—30.1 for every 1,000 of population. Middletown, which ranked second in the state, filled its baby quota with 863 new citizens, at 29.1 a thousand population. Hamilton, which ranked third, received 1,108 babies, or 27.7 to every thousand.

East Cleveland particularly was shunned, as well as Cleveland Heights and Norwood. In 1924 Cleveland Heights received but 4.1 babies per 1,000 population. East Cleveland got 5 for every thousand and Norwood 7.

Dayton, Cincinnati and Columbus all showed slight ihcreases, while Cleveland and Toledo manifested decreases.

The queerness of old "Doc" Stork for every 1,000 persons in Lorain, was shown when he took 25.5 babies while he practically boycotted—or "girlcotted"—East Cleveland, which is only a few miles away.

HOOVER TELLS STATES AND CITIES TO SEEK REMEDY FOR THEIR ILLS

Secretary of Commerce, Speaks at Advertising Club Convention, Says Country Thinks Washington is Cure-all.

HOUSTON, Tex., May 11.—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover today told the county to quit looking toward Washington for cures for all its ills.

"We are confronted with the daily demand to extend government in order to cure some abuse or other," Hoover said, addressing the 21st annuel convention of the Associated advertising club of the world. "The arm of the federal government is a poor cure for abuse for it at once becomes a restraint of liberty and it cannot operate even to restrain evil without bringing about some instance of oppression.

Hoover asserted that the country needs to have its mind turned off of national government cure idea, according to Hoover as "Everybody knows of some ill in the other fellow's business that ought to be cured right away."

"If we can decentralize thought onto state and municipal governments we shall automoatically stop the growth of federal encouragement, he continued.

In Hoover's opinion, the test of the whole economic and the social system is its capacity to cure its own abuses. He held that if the country is to be wholly dependent upon government to cure wrongs, "We shall have his very method created an enlarged and deadening abuse through the extension of bureaucracy and the clumsy and incapable handling of Transfer Picnic From Idora Park to Canton Amusement Center.

RAIL EXCURSIONS

Gov. A. V. Donahey and Labor Chieftain Will be Speakers.

200 MEN JOBLESS AS FIRE DESTROYS SEWER PIPE PLANT IN IRONDALE

Blaze Sweeps No. 1 Unit, Five-story Frame Structure, of East Ohio Company Sunday Afternoon, Causing Loss Estimated at $300,000, Partly Covered by Insurance.

TWO MEN, TRAPPED WHEN FLAMES CUT OFF STAIRWAYS, LEAP TO SAFETY

Spontaneous Combustion is Believed to Have Caused Fire Which Razes One of Village's Chief Industries on Eve of Resumption of Operations in Full—Plan to Rebuild.

Fire, believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion, destroyed plant No. 1, a five-story structure, 100x300 feet of the East Ohio Sewer Pipe company at Irondale at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon causing a loss estimated at $300,000.

Two hundred men are jobless as a result of the blaze, which spread with such rapidity, that the plant was in ruins within a half hour after the fire was discovered in the engine r oom by Engineer William Frampton.

George Saltsman and another member of an eight-man repair crew, at work in the building, were trapped on the third floor when the flames cut off the stairway. They made their way to the second floor, leaped from a window to the roof of the boiler house and hen dropped to the ground. Neither was injured.

With Irondale without an organized fire department, the only means of fighting the blaze was equipment at the sewer pipe plant. One line of hose was turned on the flames, but the fire gained such headway that it was destroyed before a second line of hose could be attached to a water plug.

Operate No. 2 Plant.

Preparations were being made to resume operations in full at the No. 1 plant today. During the last several weeks, the plant, one of the chief industries of the village, has been running on a part time basis.

The East Ohio Sewer Pipe company of which William Banfield, of Steubenville, is president, operates another unit in Irondale.

Fred Ormesney, manager of the fire-swept plant, which was the original unit erected in Irondale by the company, is in Stanton, Va., for the benefit of his health.

William Williams, of Irondale, is the plant superintendent.

Officials of the company said that steps probably would be taken to rebuild the plant as soon as insurance, which partly covers the loss, is adjusted.

About 200 men are employed in the No. 2 plant.

FATHER UPSETS CUPID'S PLANS

Contemplated Elopement of Sisters Thwarted in Chester.

The timely arrival of the father and two brothers of two pretty Youngstown girls, sisters, aged 16 and 18 years, at a Chester restaurant early this morning, halted a contemplated double elopement which was to have culminated at New Cumberland.

The two girls and their would-be-husbands left Youngstown late yesterday afternoon for New Cumberland, where they intended to marry without the consent of the parents of the brides-elect. The father, becoming suspicious, when the girls did not return home at an early hour this morning, started toward East Liverpool in pursuit of his daughters, whom he believed to be headed for West Virginia's Gretna green, New Cumberland.

Following a trail that led across the bridge into Chester, the father found the two girls eating breakfast in the Weldon restaurant, Carolina avenue, at 7 o'clock. Their two gentlemen friends had driven their machine to a gasoline filling station less than 200 feet away to obtain gas, leaving their brides-elect in the restaurant.

The two sisters were placed in their father's car and started back to Youngstown. The young men, chagrined, also returned to Youngstown, but in their own car.

"DOC" STORK BEAT FREQUENT PATH TO EAST LIVERPOOL DURING LAST YEAR

Ceramic City Sets Pace in Births for State, With Middletown Second, is Report of Columbus Statisticians.

If Cleveland and Toledo and some of the other big cities of Ohio don't watch out, they will find some day that population figures of some of the smaller Ohio towns are beginning to threaten.

This may be merely another hollow statement, but Columbus statisticians who make it their business to check up on every visit of the famous "Doc" Stork, have learned that in Ohio the "Doctor" in 1924 beat a frequent path to East Liverpool and Middletown, while the trips to Cleveland and Toledo fell off.

There were 658 new babies taken to East Liverpool by him last year—30.1 for every 1,000 of population. Middletown, which ranked second in the state, filled its baby quota with 863 new citizens, at 29.1 a thousand population. Hamilton, which ranked third, received 1,108 babies, or 27.7 to every thousand.

East Cleveland particularly was shunned, as well as Cleveland Heights and Norwood. In 1924 Cleveland Heights received but 4.1 babies per 1,000 population. East Cleveland got 5 for every thousand and Norwood 7.

Dayton, Cincinnati and Columbus all showed slight ihcreases, while Cleveland and Toledo manifested decreases.

The queerness of old "Doc" Stork for every 1,000 persons in Lorain, was shown when he took 25.5 babies while he practically boycotted—or "giricotted"—East Cleveland, which is only a few miles away.

HOOVER TELLS STATES AND CITIES TO SEEK REMEDY FOR THEIR ILLS

Secretary of Commerce, Speaks at Advertising Club Convention, Says Country Thinks Washington is Cure-all.

HOUSTON, Tax., May 11.—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover today told the county to quit looking toward Washrington for cures for all its ills.

"We are confronted with the daily demand to extend government in order to cure some abuse or other," Hoover said, addressing the 21st annuel convention of the Associated advertising club of the world. "The arm of the federal government is a poor cure for abuse for it at once becomes a restraint of liberty and it cannot operate even to restrain evil without bringing about some instance of oppression.

Hoover asserted that the country needs to have its mind turned off of national government cure idea, according to Hoover as "Everybody knows of some ill in the other fellow's business that ought to be cured right away."

"If we can decentralize thought onto state and municipal governments we shall automoatically stop the growth of federal encouragement, he continued.

In Hoover's opinion, the test of the whole economic and the social system is its capacity to cure its own abuses. He held that if the country is to be wholly dependent upon government to cure wrongs, "We shall have his very method created an enlarged and deadening abuse through the extension of bureaucracy and the clumsy and incapable handling of other, a weakling used by a Bismarck in another and so on.

Also Rev. Dean Inge, comparing democracy with autocracy is like comparing a baby held in its nurse's arms with a baby trying to walk, falling down and bumping its little forehead.

The child is safer, of course, in the arms of its autocrat, the nurse. But it must learn to walk sometime. That's what we are doing in America and what they are doing, perhaps more efficiently in Berlin, preserving their king as a convenient sympol. We're just practicing democracy, holding on to the coat tail of plutocracy to steady ourselves a little. Come around in 500 or 1,000 years and we'll show you.

Ned McLean, philosopher, writes "The agricultural bloc cannot understand why Colorado farmers pray for rain when all that is necessary is to pass a law."

The agricultural bloc, perhaps, has been studying railroads. They do not pray for higher rates. They go before the interstate commerce commission and get them. If farmers could work on the railroad plan they would not have to pray for rain. But high finance and government say to them, "You farmers must obey the natural law of supply and demand. What about the railroads? Oh, that's a different business."

In Sofia communists and others described as "Reds" are trying to kill King Boris. We can't understand why Boris wants to be king, or why anybody wants to kill him.

It is the custom outside of Bulgaria to attribute the "Red" disorders in Sofia to machinations of the Russian government.

The local cause of the trouble, which will not soon end, is the hunting down and murdering of the leader of the Bulgarian peasants. Thus civil war in Bulgaria is more like the Jacquerie in old France than any modern revolution. And, the Jacquerie was not pleasant.

Brotherly love is beautiful, and some communists support their plan for dividing up all property by pointing to heaven, where, of course, nobody owns land on streets of gold or other property.

But, brotherly love and communism—our fate, perhaps, hereafter—are not good for business down here. The Russian government realizes that, and restores the Russian mines to then original owners because it wants the mines to be worked. It encourages Russians to go into business and make money if they can.

To take money making, which means the gratifying of selfishness and desire of wealth, out of a government is like taking the mainspring out of a watch. The watch continues to look pretty, but it doesn't tick, and the hands don't move.

The jeweler knows what he is about when he puts a mainspring in a watch and providence knew what it was about when it put selfishness into human beings. That's what makes us work, and we're here to work.

Would the American frontiersmen have gone out to clear the forest and fight bears and Indians, to the day of their death, if they hadn't wanted to own the land?

Two machines, one of them owned by Richard Carson, of this city, crashed head-on at a point about one and a half miles north of Stop 55 on the Lincoln highway at 6 o'clock Sunday evening. Both cars were badly damaged. Carson's being brought to this city by McElravy Brothers and the other car, the name of the owner of which was not learned, was taken to Lisbon.

A coupe, said to have been driven by a Canton woman, had a close call from toppling into Beaver Creek near the bridge, west of Smiths Ferry yesterday afternoon. The car was stoped after one of the front wheels went oyer the side of the road. The car was pulled back to the road by the McElravy Brothers' wreck crew, and the woman continued her journey.

Hoover Tells States

delicate moral and economic forces."

American business, according to Hoover, needs a lifting purpose greater than the struggle of materialism. It requires, he added, a finer regard for the rights of others, a stronger devotion to obligations of citizenship that will assure an improved leadership in every community and in the nation.

Hoover showed that advertising is playing a fundamental part in the American economic system and that through this medium living standards have been raised.

"Modern advertising is the handmaiden of mass production," he said. "The impulse of advertising has added to the distribution of news, information, good cheer and educational material to our people. Obviously were it not for the vast extension of national advertising we should never have the fine development of our periodical magazines, and were it not for the growth of the local newspaper advertising our publishers would not be able to produce the great journals which are of such incalcuable value.

JUDGMENT DAY NEAR, IS CLAIM

G. M. Wilson Speaks on Subject at Bible Students' Meet.

That the world's Judgment day is nearer was the declaration of G. M. Wilson, Pittsburgh, in a lecture at the Ceramic Cafeteria auditorium Sunday afternoon under the anspices of the International Bible Students' Association.

"Vague and indefinite ideas prevail concerning the Judgment day," said the speaker. "Some think that Jesus will be seated upon a literal cloud and judge the world in a 24-hour day; others say that each person is judged at the moment of death and therefore a judgment is unnecessary.

"In the restoration or kingdom period mankind will be freed from Adamic condemnation, the death penalty will be lifted and Satan shall be bound for 1,000 years. Satan has been promoter of ignorance and superstition and selfishness, but Christ will promote truth, righteousness and love and will take away the causes for sickness, old age and death. Those passing the final judgment will receive the grant of eternal life from God and those who fail in the final judgment will die the second death.

a male quartet. Dr. Goodwin took his text from Psalms 50:2 "Out of Zion the perfection of beauty, God hath shined."

A male quartet from Alliance sang at the Sunday afternoon memorial service in honor of Rev. A. H. Vaughn, pastor of the Washington church, who recently died while visiting in Newell, was conducted in charge of Rev. Lulu Kell, Rev. Benedum and Dr. Sloan. An ordination service for Rev. H. F. The auditorium was filled at the closing service of the assembly, beginning at 7 o'clock. The song service was led by Prof. A. H. Johnson. Prayer was offered by Dr. E. P. Ellyson. The Alliance hallelujah quartet sang "It Was Jesus Who Set Me Free." The local Sunday school orchestra also gave selections. "That Wonderful City on High" was sung by N. B. Vandall.

Rev. G. H. Rowe of New Castle, who delivered the evening sermon, spoke on the subject, "What Shall I Do With Jesus, Which is Called the Christ." Assignments were read, followed by a hallelujah march, during which a free will collection was taken for General Superintendent Dr. J. W. Goodwin.

William T. Keets, 52, farm laborer, committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart with a shotgun at the home of Elba John, south of Salem, early Sunday morning.

Worry over the loss of money and ill health are assigned as the causes. Mr. John, at whose home Keets has been staying, found the body with a big hole torn through his chest, near the garage.

Keets' wife died about eight years ago and since then he had lost his home. He leaves one son, Eli Keets, of Salem.

HIGH SCHOOL TROPHY STOLEN

Field Meet Cup Disappears From Lisbon Office.

Officials of the Columbiana County Track and Field Association today had no solution to the mysterious disappearance of the large silver trophy cup which was taken from the ticket office at the county fairground, Lisbon, while the twenty-second annual field meet of the association was under way Saturday afternoon.

The loss of the cup was discovered shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday evening, when officials entered the ticket booth for the awarding of medals to individual winners and the trophy to Salem high school, which won the meet.

The cup had been brought from East Palestine high school, which had won the meet last year, to Lisbon on Saturday morning. It was placed in the ticket office at the entrance to the fairground. At 3:30 o'clock the sale of tickets ceased and officials in charge of the booth locked the doors and left in order to witness the late afternoon events.

When they returned, the cup was gone. Neither the door nor the windows bore evidences of having been forced, it is said.

Superintendent W. H. Geiger, of Lisbon high school, today announced that every effort will be made to locate the missing cup, which has been in service since 1915.

If the cup is not found, the association will purchase another trophy for the meet winners, Mr. Geiger said.

izations the right to use their bands during the parade. The order declared that any organization bringing its band would be dissolved immediately.

The Nationalists planned to make Hindenburg's arrival from Hanover a day of triumph for their party as well as one of adulation for the victory.

While it was a day of rejoicing for the Nationalists. There was in the city the tension which precedes a situation fraught with dangerous possibilities. The Communists had ordered a 24-hour strike as a protest against the election of Hindenburg.

Cheered at Hanover.

HANOVER, Germany, May 11.—President-elect Paul Von Hindenburg left Hanover this afternoon enroute for his triumphal entry into Berlin.

"I will continue to do my duty," Hindenburg said to crowds at the station just before his train left for Berlin. "I know only unity can save us. I promise special consideration for the poor and miserable. I will work toward unification of all classes. I hope to lead the people from strife back to unity."

"Hoch Deutschland," he called from the parlor car window.

Thousands answered his cries with cheers, then burst into the strains of "Deutschland Uber Alles."

RUM ROW PLAYS HIDE AND SEEK

Government's Dry Navy in Big Game Off Atlantic Coast.

WASHINGTON, May 11. — Rum runners and the government's dry navy were playing a gigantic game of hide and seek off the Atlantic coast today.

Reports to coast guard headquarters showed that the liquor ships are shifting their position and that rum row apparently is scattering.

The marine "secret service" was keeping a close check on the whereabouts of the 40 foreign vessels which make up the Atlantic liquor colony.

Coast guard cutters and patrol boats were close on the heels of the liquor ships which have deserted rum row. When "escorts" were not available, the Chesapeake bay fleet was notified by radio to be on the lookout for the southbound rum runners and to inform "G. H. Q." at Washington of the new location.

The big war map in the office of Admiral F. C. Billard, commandant of the coast guard, showed a different aspect than on the first day of the drive.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The United States "dry navy" blocking the whisky armada 30 miles at sea, was on the alert in anticipation of the possibility of a dash for freedom on the part of the "rum fleet."

A heavy fog, hanging thickly over a calm sea, was looked upon by coast guard officers as the "break" which rum skippers have been waiting for since the beginning of the rigid blockade a week ago.

Some prohibition officers believed the bootleggers would take advantage of the mist and slip away to a new base of operations. In some quarters it was reported the booze fleet was heading for Chesapeake bay.

In anticipation of any such move it was said the government already had assembled another "dry fleet" off the Virginia capes.

Only one boat has attempted to run the blockade through New York Harbor. She escaped, but not before tossing more than 100 cases of liquor overboard to increase her speed.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Bids for the three 100-foot patrol boats to be added to the government's dry navy, will be opened here May 15 the coast guard announced today.

challenged by the state and his place was taken by Mrs. Ustick.

Horace Lake, city auditor, East Palestine, who occupied seat No. 8, was also excused under challenge, Knepper filling the vacancy.

After the jury has been selected they will be taken to Wellsville, in charge of Sheriff George Wright, to view the scene of the alleged crime. This may occur tomorrow morning.

Should this program be followed the taking of testimony will likely begin Tuesday afternoon. It is improbable the case will reach the jury before Thursday.

In all 22 jurors were examined during the morning session of court. There were 75 names drawn from the wheel. Several of those who were examined were excused from service because of their opposition to capital punishment.

This case is being heard in court room No. 2 with Judge James Glenn of Coshocton county presiding.

The state is represented by Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes and his assistant, John Bauknecht. East Palestine, while Longo is defended by Attorneys James O'Grady, Wellsville, and William C. Moore, Lisbon, appointed by the court.

other, a weakling used by a Bismarck in another and so on.

Also Rev. Dean Inge, comparing democracy with autocracy is like comparing a baby held in its nurse's arms with a baby trying to walk, falling down and bumping its little forehead.

The child is safer, of course, in the arms of its autocrat, the nurse. But it must learn to walk sometime. That's what we are doing in America and what they are doing, perhaps more efficiently in Berlin, preserving their king as a convenient sympol. We're just practicing democracy, holding on to the coat tail of plutocracy to steady ourselves a little. Come around in 500 or 1,000 years and we'll show you.

Ned McLean, philosopher, writes "The agricultural bloc cannot understand why Colorado farmers pray for rain when all that is necessary is to pass a law."

The agricultural bloc, perhaps, has been studying railroads. They do not pray for higher rates. They go before the interstate commerce commission and get them. If farmers could work on the railroad plan they would not have to pray for rain. But high finance and government say to them, "You farmers must obey the natural law of supply and demand. What about the railroads? Oh, that's a different business."

In Sofia communists and others described as "Reds" are trying to kill King Boris. We can't understand why Boris wants to be king, or why anybody wants to kill him.

It is the custom outside of Bulgaria to attribute the "Red" disorders in Sofia to machinations of the Russian government.

The local cause of the trouble, which will not soon end, is the hunting down and murdering of the leader of the Bulgarian peasants. Thus civil war in Bulgaria is more like the Jacquerie in old France than any modern revolution. And, the Jacquerie was not pleasant.

Brotherly love is beautiful, and some communists support their plan for dividing up all property by pointing to heaven, where, of course, nobody owns land on streets of gold or other property.

But, brotherly love and communism—our fate, perhaps, hereafter—are not good for business down here. The Russian government realizes that, and restores the Russian mines to then original owners because it wants the mines to be worked. It encourages Russians to go into business and make money if they can.

To take money making, which means the gratifying of selfishness and desire of wealth, out of a government is like taking the mainspring out of a watch. The watch continues to look pretty, but it doesn't tick, and the hands don't move.

The jeweler knows what he is about when he puts a mainspring in a watch and providence knew what it was about when it put selfishness into human beings. That's what makes us work, and we're here to work.

Would the American frontiersmen have gone out to clear the forest and fight bears and Indians, to the day of their death, if they hadn't wanted to own the land?

baugher, plowed through the guard railing on the southside of Pennsylvania avenue near the "red steps" late Saturday night and came to a stop when it struck a tree. The driver was not hurt.

Two machines, one of them owned by Richard Carson, of this city, crashed head-on at a point about one and a half miles north of Stop 55 on the Lincoln highway at 6 o'clock Sunday evening. Both cars were badly damaged. Carson's being brought to this city by McElravy Brothers and the other car, the name of the owner of which was not learned, was taken to Lisbon.

A coupe, said to have been driven by a Canton woman, had a close call from toppling into Beaver Creek near the bridge, west of Smiths Ferry yesterday afternoon. The car was stoped after one of the front wheels went over the side of the road. The car was pulled back to the road by the McElravy Brothers' wreck crew, and the woman continued her journey.

delicate moral and economic forces."

American business, according to Hoover, needs a lifting purpose greater than the struggle of materialism. It requires, he added, a finer regard for the rights of others, a stronger devotion to obligations of citizenship that will assure an improved leadership in every community and in the nation.

Hoover showed that advertising is playing a fundamental part in the American economic system and that through this medium living standards have been raised.

"Modern advertising is the handmaiden of mass production," he said. "The impulse of advertising has added to the distribution of news, information, good cheer and educational material to our people. Obviously were it not for the vast extension of national advertising we should never have the fine development of our periodical magazines, and were it not for the growth of the local newspaper advertising our publishers would not be able to produce the great journals which are of such incalcuable value.

JUDGMENT DAY NEAR, IS CLAIM

G. M. Wilson Speaks on Subject at Bible Students' Meet.

That the world's Judgment day is nearer was the declaration of G. M. Wilson, Pittsburgh, in a lecture at the Ceramic Cafeteria auditorium Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the International Bible Students' Association.

"Vague and indefinite ideas prevail concerning the Judgment day," said the speaker. "Some think that Jesus will be seated upon a literal cloud and judge the world in a 24-hour day; others say that each person is judged at the moment of death and therefore a judgment is unnecessary.

"In the restoration or kingdom period mankind will be freed from Adamic condemnation, the death penalty will be lifted and Satan shall be bound for 1,000 years. Satan has been promoter of ignorance and superstition and selfishness, but Christ will promote truth, righteousness and love and will take away the causes for sickness, old age and death. Those passing the final judgment will receive the grant of eternal life from God and those who fail in the final judgment will die the second death.

HIGH SCHOOL TROPHY STOLEN

Field Meet Cup Disappears From Lisbon Office.

Officials of the Columbiana County Track and Field Association today had no solution to the mysterious disappearance of the large silver trophy cup which was taken from the ticket office at the county fairground, Lisbon, while the twenty-second annual field meet of the association was under way Saturday afternoon.

The loss of the cup was discovered shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday evening, when officials entered the ticket booth for the awarding of medals to individual winners and the trophy to Salem high school, which won the meet.

The cup had been brought from East Palestine high school, which had won the meet last year, to Lisbon on Saturday morning. It was placed in the ticket office at the entrance to the fairground. At 3:30 o'clock the sale of tickets ceased and officials in charge of the booth locked the doors and left in order to witness the late afternoon events.

When they returned, the cup was gone. Neither the door nor the windows bore evidences of having been forced, it is said.

Superintendent W. H. Geiger, of Lisbon high school, today announced that every effort will be made to locate the missing cup, which has been in service since 1915.

If the cup is not found, the association will purchase another trophy for the meet winners, Mr. Geiger said.

Berlin Cheers

izations the right to use their bands during the parade. The order declared that any organization bringing its band would be dissolved immediately.

The Nationalists planned to make Hindenburg's arrival from Hanover a day of triumph for their party as well as one of adulation for the victory.

While it was a day of rejoicing for the Nationalists. There was in the city the tension which precedes a situation fraught with dangerous possibilities. The Communists had ordered a 24-hour strike as a protest against the election of Hindenburg.

Cheered at Hanover.

HANOVER, Germany, May 11.—President-elect Paul Von Hindenburg left Hanover this afternoon enroute for his triumphal entry into Berlin.

"I will continue to do my duty," Hindenburg said to crowds at the station just before his train left for Berlin. "I know only unity can save us. I promise special consideration for the poor and miserable. I will work toward unification of all classes. I hope to lead the people from strife back to unity."

"Hoch Deutschland," he called from the parlor car window.

Thousands answered his cries with cheers, then burst into the strains of "Deutschland Uber Alles."

RUM ROW PLAYS HIDE AND SEEK

Government's Dry Navy in Big Game Off Atlantic Coast.

WASHINGTON, May 11. — Rum runners and the government's dry navy were playing a gigantic game of hide and seek off the Atlantic coast today.

Reports to coast guard headquarters showed that the liquor ships are shifting their position and that rum row apparently is scattering.

The marine "secret service" was keeping a close check on the whereabouts of the 40 foreign vessels which make up the Atlantic liquor colony.

Coast guard cutters and patrol boats were close on the heels of the liquor ships which have deserted rum row. When "escorts" were not available, the Chesapeake bay fleet was notified by radio to be on the lookout for the southbound rum runners and to inform "G. H. Q." at Washington of the new location.

The big war map in the office of Admiral F. C. Billard, commandant of the coast guard, showed a different aspect than on the first day of the drive.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The United States "dry navy" blocking the whisky armada 30 miles at sea, was on the alert in anticipation of the possibility of a dash for freedom on the part of the "rum fleet."

A heavy fog, hanging thickly over a calm sea, was looked upon by coast guard officers as the "break" which rum skippers have been waiting for since the beginning of the rigid blockade a week ago.

Some prohibition officers believed the bootleggers would take advantage of the mist and slip away to a new base of operations. In some quarters it was reported the booze fleet was heading for Chesapeake bay.

In anticipation of any such move it was said the government already had assembled another "dry fleet" off the Virginia capes.

Only one boat has attempted to run the blockade through New York Harbor. She escaped, but not before tossing more than 100 cases of liquor overboard to increase her speed.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Bids for the three 100-foot patrol boats to be added to the government's dry navy, will be opened here May 15 the coast guard announced today.

challenged by the state and his place was taken by Mrs. Ustick.

The G. A. R., Sons of Veterans and American Legion will conduct a joint campaign next Friday and Saturday, which have been designated as Poppy Days.

School children, under the direction of Mrs. George Obney, Poppy Day chairman, expect to dispose of 14,000 of the red blossoms on the streets. Funds raised in the campaign will be expended in providing for a proper tribute to soldiers, sailors and marines who have gone to their eternal reward.

East Liverpool will pay homage to scores of martyrs of the Civil, Spanish-American and World wars on Memorial Day. Graves of the hero dead will be decorated, while exercises commemorating their valiant deeds and sacrifices will be held.

Lest we forget, 318,203 Americans made the supreme sacrifice in defense of the nation in the World war, while other thousands died in the wars of 1861 and 1898.

White House Housecleaning

House renovating time in the rest of the country is also house renovating time in Washington, D. C. The family that has been painting, papering, varnishing and furbishing things generally in its own home is only doing on a small scale what has to be done at the White House on a large scale.

Of course, Mrs. Coolidge is the only housewife for whose spring housecleaning operations congress appropriated $50,000, but also she is the only one who has so old and so large and so important a mansion to renovate.

From the more familiar jobs of replacing rugs and draperies and having old upholstered furniture refinished, to remodeling and modernizing the elevator, plumbing and vacuum cleaning systems, there is much going on at the White House. The first lady of the land has to plan and oversee a good deal of it. She doesn't have to don a bungalow apron and wield scrubbing brush or rug beater herself, but she has executive duties to perform with which every efficient housewife in the land can sympathize.

Seven Social Sins

A great English divine recently preached a sermon on "seven social sins." He named his seven points and carefully expounded each one in a very fine series of arguments. The New Orleans Times-Picayune finds them sufficiently important and interesting to stand along and lists them, without the preacher's explanations, as follows:

Politics with principle.
Wealth without work.
Pleasure without conscience.
Knowledge without character.
Industry without morality.
Science without humanity.
Worship without sacrifice.

They are recognizable evils. Expressed simply, they are easy for the thoughtful individual to understand, to meditate upon and to apply as a test to his own and his community's activities.

A Shade-Tree City

Does any public official or department here have a complete record of all city trees? Toronto, Can., believes it has the happy distinction of having more shade trees on its streets than any other city on the continent. Further, its park department has accurate knowledge concerning every one of its 126,000. Within 30 seconds, it is said, any tree on any street could be identified and described as to species, age, general health and variety.

With such detailed knowledge it may be assumed that trees are pruned of sprayed or cared for in any way that is needed, that dead trees are promptly replaced, and that other trees will be set out.

Rivalry as to human population is common enough, but very few communities take a tree census that is so thorough and so useful as Toronto's. Yet the title "shade tree city" is one well worth holding.

Good Bodies, Good Minds

Here is something of interest to parents and educators about children's intelligence. In Bloomington, Ind., after the school pupils had had the usual intelligence tests, two groups of them were given physical tests. One group represented children of high mentality and the other children of low mentality. It was found that those who stood high in the intelligence tests rated higher in physical development than the children with a low intelligence rating.

Thus a prevalent notion that the bright children are likely to be physical weaklings is disproved. It is found that good minds and good bodies tend to go together.

Good bodies make brighter minds. Brighter minds do their part toward making good bodies, though that influence is less obvious. The two go together oftener than people realize, giving new force to the idea that mental dullness is usually traceable to bad physical condition.

The old tire usually blows out just before you make a mileage record with it.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 11.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Up by eight o'clock and made a melancholy talk to some students of journalism and then to Dean Cornwell's studio and he tells of going to Palestine to do some painting and will be gone a year.

And A. M. Andrews, the banker, came and sat awhile and I covered with confusion at his discovery that I had no sock on my right foot. So to breakfast and a fellow made such noises drinking his coffee that I turned sick and left.

Home and tried to write a piece I had promised to do and such a hack job I tore it up. In the evening to dinner and met Luther Reed and his fair lady Naomi Childers and so to bed early.

One of the two remaining yards in midtown New York is to give way to building progress. It's a court yard hidden away opposite the south side of the Hotel Astor and blooms with trees and flowers. It is owned by the Astor estate and was known as Westover Court—an apartment building for bachelors.

With the tearing down of the Putnam Building, on whose roof the electrical wriggly twins did their nightly jiggling, the Westover Court also comes down. One of the largest motion picture theatres in the world is to rise on the site.

The other yard is on Fifth Avenue in the Thirties. It is a part of the gloomy and shuttered mansion so long one of the avenue's mysteries. The yard, worth millions, is preserved by two old ladies as a playground for their dogs.

No one is ever seen entering or leaving the house. No light shines there at night.

Taxicabs are growing so cheap in New York that Frisco, the dancer, declares he saw a peddler driving up and down Broadway in one peddling shoelaces.

"Abie's Irish Rose" is entering its fourth year, breaking all records for American theatrical runs. The producers believe it will last for five years. The nearest rival was "Lightnin'," which ran for 153 weeks. "The Bat" ran 104 weeks and the "Gold Diggers" for 90 weeks. There is no explaining the success of the play. It is the thinnest sort of hokum and it might be argued that on account of its racial features its appeal was strictly New Yorkish, but this has been disproven by its conspicuous success on the road.

Irvin Cobb and I have adjoining lots upon which he will build a pretentious home and I a modest structure. The lots are in a suburb of Houston, Tex., where we expect to spend your declining days after the New York wear and tear. For some time I have been trying to fashion a name for the place. It is not elegant enough to call "Idlewild Villa" or something like that, and is to my notion too fine to call "Dandruff-on-the-Knob." I sometimes think the best of all suggestions is simply "The Place." Owning a home in a suburb gives one a chance to join New York high-hatters who enjoy referring to their country estates after spending an entire evening leading up to this grand flourish.

New Yorkers like to think their city blase and yet no cross roads hamlet is so curious and naive. Jack Dempsey or Babe Ruth out walking will snarl up traffic on any street here. It required all the available police in the district to make a path for Gloria Swanson to enter a theatre. Jack Hazzard used to bring out reserves by the simple expedient of looking for a lost coin in front of the Lambs.

It was Hazzard also, I believe, who, when a block in West 44th St., was torn up, put up a sign reading: "On this spot Dave Warfield lost a nickel."

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A National Police Bureau.

NEW YORK CITY, May 11.—At the International Police Conference being held in New York City May 12 to 16 steps will be taken for a new and more forceful appeal to Congress to establish a National Police Bureau for this country. This is a measure which is advocated by 700 municipal police department and the need for it is so widely recognized that the leaders in the movement believe that congress will take the necessary action at the approaching session.

Most conspicuous among the advocates of a National Police Bureau is Police Commissioner Richard E. Enright, of New York City, who says that there is no country in the world of the magnitude of the United States in which there is less cooperation betwen the police forces, or where the exercise of police power is more localized.

As Commissioner Enright points out, there are some 55 separate national, state, territorial and colonial governments in this country and its colonies, each one having a different penal code and code of criminal procedure. There is no established place through which important police information is or could be cleared. There is no central bureau available to municipal police forces where records of criminal identification can be obtained without cost.

There is no place where the criminal statistics of the several States, Territories and Colonies are officially collected. There is no national criminal laboratory available to assist state or municipal police forces in the apprehension of criminals or the suppression or prevention of crime. Nothing has been accomplished to standardize the penal laws or codes of criminal procedure of the several states, territories and colonies.

"It is my earnest belief that a National Police bureau, to be located preferably at Washington, should be established at once," says Mr. Enright. "It is my belief that through general coordination under such a central organization the crime rate of America could be reduced during the next five years by not less than 50 per cent and that its elimination to the point of the irreducible minimum would follow soon thereafter."

Inefficient and Impractical.

While Americans boast of their commercial efficiency they should realize, it is pointed out, that the total absence and lack of articulation and coordination in the transactions of their police forces make them the most inefficient and impractical known in the civilized world, and the result bears heavily upon the national economy and the public generally.

There has never been any attempt, either by the national, state, county or municipal governments or police organizations to prepare and adopt a plan for efficient police cooperation. Indeed, it is asserted that while every

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

NEW INJUNCTION RULE IS SOUGHT

Coal Operators Spring Surprise in Contempt Case Hearing.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 11.—Operators threw a bomb into defense of United Mine Workers' members, arraigned in federal court for contempt today, when they filed a bill of complaint asking for a new injunction to supplant that now in force, and under which contempt proceedings were instituted. The new injunction is along drastic lines, and is modeled after the injunction granted some years ago to the Hitchman Coal company against John Mitchell, then miners' head, and others.

The petitioner is the West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal company.

The new injunction would forbid all activities by the union or its members, and would supplement the injunction now in effect which the court last week ruled must be amended to permit of "peaceful persuasion." Those named by the operators in the new bill of complaint today are: International President John L. Lewis; Philip Murray, national vice president, and Van A. Bittner, national organizer; President Lee Hall, of sub-district No. 6, of Ohio; his vice president, William Roy, and Secretary-Treasurer G. W. Savage; President Frank Ledvinka, of sub-district No. 5, Vice President John Lonque, Secretary-Treasurer W. T. Roberts and Joseph Angelo, organizer.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 11.—A crisis in the strike of coal miners in the Panhandle counties of West Virginia opened today in federal court here, when Judge Baker will decide whether or not a score of miners, including International President John L. Lewis, are in contempt of an injunction granted the West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal company in 1913, and made permanent in 1923.

The case comes before the court this morning upon presentment of fact by counsel for miners and operators, and will be followed by argument prior to the court deciding whether or not contempt existed, upon the part of mine officials and members and whether they are to be further prosecuted.

The action today is the next step following ruling of the court last week that peaceful persuasion could be legally used by miners in the strike for unionization, and that the permanent injunction should have so specified a modification that had been directed by the court of appeals at Richmon, Va.

The presentment of fact and argument today is attracting as much attention as earlier stages of the legal struggle that has marked the strike, the court room being filled to overflowing long before it was called to order.

The Value of the Rust Proof Oven

It is the oven that usually cuts short the usefulness of the average gas range. The ordinary gas oven soon rusts out, begins to bake poorly and makes it worthless.

Every A-B RANGE is built to endure in service as well as to beautify. The oven is lined with Wilden metal—a patented aluminum alloy which is guaranteed never to rust or corrode—insuring long life, refreshing newness and dependable efficiency.

Other notable features which you will want in a new gas range you buy are smooth, white genuine porcelain surfaces—clean glass oven doors, patented gas-saving burners and the famous A-B Oven Heat Control.

A-B Gas Ranges are made in a wide variety of styles and sizes to satisfy any individual need or preference.

community, town, village or city, regardless of population, has an effective police organization of some sort, each local police organization is a law unto itself, and the relations it may have with any similar organization are of the most uncertain, casual and perfunctory character.

It is necessary for one of these local organizations to seek information or assistance from another police authority it requires as much formality and red tape as would be necessary in communications between the ambassadors of different nations. Instead of frequent confidential exchange of experiences and police information there seems to be an atmosphere of suspicion, jealousy, or actual hostility no one said or the other, and whatever benefit might be accomplished in an attempt at cooperation is nullified before the preliminary gestures are commenced.

"It is obvious," declares Commissioner Enright, "that such a condition in respect to the efficient cooperation of police forces in the exercise of police power between different localities of the same nation is ridiculous and would not be permitted for a period of one day in any first rate continental nation."

Fine for the Criminals.

By way of illustration it may be pointed out that there is a large number of separate collections of fingerprints in this country, and that by far the most of these are in the hands of police departments. However, it is asserted that these collections can never be really effective, nor can any organization now collecting fingerprints be effective, until some well designed agency is created, financed and operated by the federal government, to collect, file and make available to all proper authorities all records of criminal identification throughout the country.

Under this vicious lack of police system, continues the commissioner, a professional criminal may operate in many states and cities with the same freedom enjoyed by the amateur in crime. A professional criminal may become so notorious and so well known to the police of New York, example, that he does not dare set a foot in that city, but he may go to Chicago, or any other city, large or small, and operate with a great degree of impunity. He changes his name and even should he be arrested for the commission of a crime of the sort for which he has a record in another city the chances are that he will not be recognized as a professional, and may either escape punishment entirely, or, in any event, he may not be punished in a manner warranted by his criminal record and true character.

This applies to all criminals—equally to the burglar, the incendiary, who starts fires for the purpose of realizing insurance, the mercantile swindler who stocks a store with goods on credit and then conveniently fails, the pickpocket, the bank sneak-thief, and the rogues of high and low degree.

The functions of the proposed National Police bureau, as set forth in the measure urged upon congress, include the following:

To gather, receive, compile, collate, study, investigate and file for reference, and properly distribute and make available to the interested or appropriate police authorities, police information and criminal intelligence throughout the country; to act as a national clearing house of crime records, criminal identifications, crime statistics, and information respecting crimes of interstate, national or international concern; to investigate, conduct studies of and make recommendations as to the standardization of police methods and procedure throughout the country; to maintain contact between the police authorities of this country and the police departments of foreign countries, and to conduct a criminal laboratory.

In the judgment of the police profession a National Police bureau must not be an agency through which arrests are made, nor must its functions be merged with those of an organization engaged in making arrests and criminal investigations of divers character. It must not exercise control over, nor interfere in, the autonomous administration and control of police departments or other police agencies, whether municipal, state or Federal.

One of the striking comments of Commissioner Enright is to the effect that in the United States every state line is a barrier to the police, although, obviously, no state line is a barrier to the criminal.

And, again, he says: "The way to stop crime is to organize the police nationally. Criminals use all modern scientific appliances. America's police as a whole do not. They must or should be as enterprising as the lawbreakers."

Expect 250,000 Yankees to Go Abroad This Year

New York.—Shipping companies expect to carry 250,000 Americans to Europe this year and break the record of 245,592 set in 1913, the heaviest year in the history of eastbound transatlantic transportation.

The companies bank upon the heavy holy-year pilgrimage to Rome this summer to speed recovery of their pre-war stride.

"White-collar" travel in third cabins has been developed to offset the loss in steerage business caused by immigration quota laws here.

Tourists' third-cabin rates, agents of the companies say, have been placed within reach of patrons previously unable to afford a trip to Europe. Professional people, artists and university students figure principally in this new clientele.

Filled Pockets With Dollars And Heart With Happiness

Commercial Traveler Who Knocked Out A Bad Case of Catarrh of Stomach

Story of How He Saved His Job and Won Prosperity Through the World's Tonic.

"I was on the verge of losing my job on account of my sickness when I began the use of World's Tonic over a year ago. I want you to know that this past season has been the most successful I have ever had. I feel that I owe much of my prosperity and good health to the World's Tonic, and I am here to tell you so."

This frank statement as pleasing as a tuneful overture, was like music in the ears of the World's Tonic representative.

A traveling man from a large city concern of a national reputation, came to the World Tonic man many months ago seeking to escape the clutches of Catarrh of the Stomach, which gripped him like a vise. A few week's use of World's Tonic and he went back to the road, declaring he was stronger than ever before.

Recently he was in East Liverpool and it was during a call of appreciation that he gave World's Tonic credit for his happiness during the last twelve months. He says:

"When I called on a merchant I did not have strength enough to show my samples as I should. My sales fell off every rapidly and the house had another man picked to take my place. It was at this time I found World's Tonic. It has been a blessing to me and has put dollars in my pocket. I was troubled with my stomach and had used all kinds of stomach medicines without results. I was finally told I had cancer of the stomach. My arms and legs ached and I could hardly get through a day's work. Gas formed on my bad taste in my mouth at all times. stomach after each meal and I had a Upon arising each morning I would stooped over and get up quickly, dark spots would float before my eyes and at times I was so dizzy I would have spit up handsfull of mucus. If I to catch hold of something to keep from falling. My tongue was always coated and my breath heavy. My wife often told me it smelled like a garbage can. My head was stopped up and I caught cold easily. Nothing I used seemed to reach the spot until I began to use World's Tonic. From the first bottle I began to show improvement. World's Tonic certainly did the work for me. I am on the job every day. I don't have and can eat anything I want. My any more trouble with my stomach head is clear and I haven't had a cold this winter.'

Fare Refunding Association of East Liverpool

EVERY WEDNESDAY AND FRIDAY

THROUGHOUT THE YEAR AND ON SUCH OTHER DAYS AND OCCASIONS AS THE ASSOCIATION MAY DESIGNATE AND ADVERTISE

In Order to Get Your Transportation Paid

Ask the first merchant from whom you make a purchase for a FARE REFUNDING VOUCHER, so you can keep account of your purchases. Present this voucher to the clerk who waits upon you in each store at which you are dealing during the FARE REFUNDING DAY in East Liverpool. If the merchant is one of those who has agreed to pay his portion of your railroad fare he will enter the amount of your purchase, beside his name, on the inside page and return the voucher to you. You are to keep this voucher and present in like manner at each store where purchases are made during the day. By this method it will be readily seen that you will not have to buy everything from one store, or the full amount required which entitles you to your fare refund from any one merchant, but on the contrary, you can patronize as many different stores as you like. Then before leaving for your home take your Voucher to the CLEARING HOUSE, where your fare will be refunded, provided your purchases total the amount designated in advertised schedule. Fares will be refunded to all persons who come from a distance, whether by team, automobile, water or rail; this includes farmers as well as persons living in towns. A money refund to and from any point, not on any railroad, will be given, equaling to what a railroad fare would be, providing the purchases total to the required amount, just as though the persons came by steam or electric railroads to East Liverpool.

Cuba's New Envoy to United States

Dr. Rafael Sanchez Aballi, new Cuban envoy to the United States is one of the leading figures in Cuban politics.

Expect 250,000 Yankees to Go Abroad This Year

New York.—Shipping companies expect to carry 250,000 Americans to Europe this year and break the record of 245,592 set in 1913, the heaviest year in the history of eastbound transatlantic transportation.

The companies bank upon the heavy holy-year pilgrimage to Rome this summer to speed recovery of their pre-war stride.

"White-collar" travel in third cabins has been developed to offset the loss in steerage business caused by immigration quota laws here.

Tourists' third-cabin rates, agents of the companies say, have been placed within reach of patrons previously unable to afford a trip to Europe. Professional people, artists and university students figure principally in this new clientele.

Bars Pajamas

Atlantic City.—Wearing pajamas on the beach here in the coming bathing season, in accordance with the new popular custom in Florida and aboard, will be absolutely banned.

"We could not allow anything like that," said Mayor Edward L. Bader.

Fishing Regulations Now Being Enforced Rigidly in Iceland

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, May — Captains of foreign fishing vessels who fish unlawfully in Icelandic waters fare badly at the hands of the Icelandic courts.

Captains of the German trawlers Gertrude and Stucbenhuk recently brought to the Westman Isles by the protection ship Fylla were fined 10,000 and 15,000 gold kroner respectively and lost their fishing outfits. The captain of the Stucbenhuk, who had committed his second offense, was sent to prison for two months.

Filled Pockets With Dollars And Heart With Happiness

Commercial Traveler Who Knocked Out A Bad Case of Catarrh of Stomach

Story of How He Saved His Job and Won Prosperity Through the World's Tonic.

"I was on the verge of losing my job on account of my sickness when I began the use of World's Tonic over a year ago. I want you to know that this past season has been the most successful I have ever had. I feel that I owe much of my prosperity and good health to the World's Tonic, and I am here to tell you so."

This frank statement as pleasing as a tuneful overture, was like music in the ears of the World's Tonic representative.

A traveling man from a large city concern of a national reputation, came to the World Tonic man many months ago seeking to escape the clutches of Catarrh of the Stomach, which gripped him like a vise. A few week's use of World's Tonic and he went back to the road, declaring he was stronger than ever before.

Recently he was in East Liverpool and it was during a call of appreciation that he gave World's Tonic credit for his happiness during the last twelve months. He says:

"When I called on a merchant I did not have strength enough to show my samples as I should. My sales fell off every rapidly and the house had another man picked to take my place. It was at this time I found World's Tonic. It has been a blessing to me and has put dollars in my pocket. I was troubled with my stomach and had used all kinds of stomach medicines without results. I was finally told I had cancer of the stomach. My arms and legs ached and I could hardly get through a day's work. Gas formed on my bad taste in my mouth at all times. stomach after each meal and I had a Upon arising each morning I would stooped over and get up quickly, dark spots would float before my eyes and at times I was so dizzy I would have spit up handsfull of mucus. If I to catch hold of something to keep from falling. My tongue was always coated and my breath heavy. My wife often told me it smelled like a garbage can. My head was stopped up and I caught cold easily. Nothing I used seemed to reach the spot until I began to use World's Tonic. From the first bottle I began to show improvement. World's Tonic certainly did the work for me. I am on the job every day. I don't have and can eat anything I want. My any more trouble with my stomach head is clear and I haven't had a cold this winter.'

COME TO EAST LIVERPOOL TO SHOP

Your TRANSPORTATION Will Be REFUNDED

BY THE

Fare Refunding Association of East Liverpool

EVERY WEDNESDAY AND FRIDAY

THROUGHOUT THE YEAR AND ON SUCH OTHER DAYS AND OCCASIONS AS THE ASSOCIATION MAY DESIGNATE AND ADVERTISE

In Order to Get Your Transportation Paid

Ask the first merchant from whom you make a purchase for a FARE REFUNDING VOUCHER, so you can keep account of your purchases. Present this voucher to the clerk who waits upon you in each store at which you are dealing during the FARE REFUNDING DAY in East Liverpool. If the merchant is one of those who has agreed to pay his portion of your railroad fare he will enter the amount of your purchase, beside his name, on the inside page and return the voucher to you. You are to keep this voucher and present in like manner at each store where purchases are made during the day. By this method it will be readily seen that you will not have to buy everything from one store, or the full amount required which entitles you to your fare refund from any one merchant, but on the contrary, you can patronize as many different stores as you like. Then before leaving for your home take your Voucher to the CLEARING HOUSE, where your fare will be refunded, provided your purchases total the amount designated in advertised schedule. Fares will be refunded to all persons who come from a distance, whether by team, automobile, water or rail; this includes farmers as well as persons living in towns. A money refund to and from any point, not on any railroad, will be given, equaling to what a railroad fare would be, providing the purchases total to the required amount, just as though the persons came by steam or electric railroads to East Liverpool.

Trotters Nose Out Laughlins In League Opener At Newell

Fowler's Nine Cuts Off Potters' Rally In Eighth Inning

Fielders Turn in Brilliant Performances; Seven Hits Collected by Each Club; Record Attendance for Early Season Clash.

The attendance almost equaling a local "baby world's series" contest, the City Industrial baseball league season at Newell was inaugurated on Saturday afternoon, Laughlin losing to the Trotters, 3 to 2, in a contest as brilliant as the occasion demanded.

The Potters had the tying and winning runs on the paths in the eighth after Smith, who had walked, finished on J. Strobel's error, V. Bailey's drive and Riser's out at first. Watson drew a pass, but Digman ended the chance for victory by flying to A. Bailey.

There was no scoring on either side until the fourth frame. Then Trotters annexed a run when Tisher muffed Pollock's long fly to right, the latter reaching second on the miscue and counting on Herbert's timely single through short.

The score was tied in the sixth when V. Bailey, singling, concluded the circuit on McGeehan's out at first and Watson's single.

In the seventh, Trotters forged to the front, Aufderheide scoring on his own double and V. Bailey's error on Hunselman's drive.

Herbert leaped into the air in the third inning and speared with his gloved hand H. Strobel's hard rap, headed for a safety.

Aufderheide fielded brilliantly in left for Trotters. V. Bailey, in the same territory, made a fine catch. E. Bailey accepted five chances at short and W. Mundy and Pollick likewise had even days at first, each garnering 13 assists without a wobble.

Barr and Digman allowed seven hits each. Digman whiffed five as against Barr's three and permitted one pass, while the latter walked three.

GOTHAM AWAITS BENEFIT BOUTS

Berlenbach-McTigue Will Top Milk Fund Card.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Barring the unforeseen return of Jack Dempsey to affairs of the fist, the best bout New York will see during the outdoor season will be held less than three weeks from today, the occasion being the annual milk fund show, the date May 29 and the principals, Mike McTigue and Paul Berlenbach. The match involves the essential combination of boxer versus fighter, which cannot be said to exist in the several remaining "shots" listed for the immediate future by local promoters.

Tex Rickard admitted today that he looked for Berlenbach to lift McTigue's light heavyweight title, which will come as a boon to mankind. He is hardly the most popular of ring champions, yet tossed in with a hasty young man like Berlenbach, he is due to put on the best exhibition he has yet given in an American ring.

McTigue will have to fight and when he has to, he can.

Berlenbach, on the other hand, has one chance and only one. He must get in close to land that murderous left of his and while he is engaged in this laudable endeavor, McTigue will be in an excellent position to indulge in his sharpshooting.

No matter what the outcome may be—a knockout for Berlenbach, a decision for McTigue—The writer can see only a great bout in prospect. Berlenbach will be hit a million times, more or less, but some time before the end of fifteen rounds, he is certain to hit McTigue once. And once may be ample, sufficient and enough.

He is, perhaps the only "one punch man," most popular of all fighters, before the boxing public today. Dempsey has beaten only one good man with a punch, to wit, Fred Fulton, and that young man has the floor complex. Nearly all of Berlenbach's knockouts have been one punch affairs. He hits them, they go.

But trying to hit McTigue is like taking careful aim at a butterfly with a sixteen pound shot. He is somewhat elusive.

Mochaetl may have something else to display at that. He claims he fought Walker, Stribling and others during the last two years with only a left hand. His right, he says, was smashed in the Siki fight, and remained, as was, until several months ago. Then a small segment of bone was removed by a local surgeon, and the result, according to McTigue, has been extremely beneficient. He claims he is twice the fighter he was, and Michael was never exactly a tramp, at that.

Mostil's Homer, With One on, Beats Nats

CHICAGO, May 11. — Johnny Mostil's home run drive into the left field bleachers with a runner on base broke up a 12-inning game yesterday and gave Chicago a 10 to 8 victory over Washington, before a crowd of more than 40,000 persons.

The world's champions went on a batting ramage in the sixth inning, driving Faber off the hill and with the aid of Connally's wildness scoring seven runs.

The Sox plugged along and tied the count in the eighth, when Gregg stepped in and checked the rally. Gregg weakened toward the finish, Lyons pitched great ball when he went to the mound.

With Dempsey Touring These Champs Draw Spotlight

Jack Dempsey has no idea of fighting until next fall if he fights at all this year. So the choicest tit-bit offered ring fans so far for the early summer is the bout booked between Harry Greb, middleweight champion of the world, and Mickey Walker, welterweight King. They will meet June 19 at the Polo grounds, New York city. Greb's title will be at stake. Photo shows Walker, left, matchmaker Jimmy De Forest, center, and Greb.

Aquatic Star

By Central Press

CHICAGO, May —That Miss Ethel Lackie, swimming star of the Illinois Athletic Club, is set to make things interesting for her sisters this season is indicated by her achievements todate, including the recent brilliant feats of the swimming 100 yards in a 75-foot pool in 1 minute, 3 and 3-5 seconds, and the negotiating of 220 yards in a 60-foot pool in 2 minutes, 45 seconds.

Miss Lackie tied a world's record in winning the 100-meter swim, free style, in the Olympic games at Paris last summer. Her time for the event was 1 minute, 12 and 3-5 seconds. In February this year she made a new world's record for that distance by clipping the three-fifths off her Olympic time. A few days later, at Tampa, Fla., she was credited with doing 100 meters in 1 minute, 10 and 1-5 seconds.

Giants Win Third of Series From Cards

NEW YORK, May 11.—The New York Giants won the third game of the series from St. Louis yesterday, 8 to 3. Jack Bentley pitched his fourth straight victory. Kelly hit a home run, with Young on base, in the third inning.

DERBY STARS AT LOUISVILLE

Several Candidates Have Workouts on Sloppy Track.

By THOMAS TEMPLE HOYNE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 11.—Eastern Derby candidates were present at Churchill Downs today. Sweeping Away and Prince of Bourbon, of the Xatapa farm stable; Almade, Hal Price Headley's colt that ran a bang-up race in the Preakness on Friday and finished third; and Single Foot, E. Griffith's colt, that was said to have been knocked out of it in the jam at the turn off the stretch in the Preakness, are now stabled here and will get their final preparation this week.

Chief Uncas is due tomorrow. So is Flying Ebony, a possible starter in the Derby. This is hte G. A. Cochran colt that last year on Derby day won a race for two-year-olds, duplicating the performance of Black Gold the year before. Tomorrow Trainer Jimmy Rowe is due about the same time with the Whitney horses, presumably Backbone and Chantey, and Bud Fisher's Swope is supposed to be enroute, although no certain notification of that has been received here.

All Saturday night it rained hard and most of yesterday a drizzle was falling, but a considerable crowd of enthusiasts went out to Churchill Downs nevertheless during the forenoon and were rewarded for their trouble by seeing a couple of the Derby colts in action.

Step Along, wearing blankets, with Jockey Lee Canfield in the saddle, stepped a mile through the sloppy going in 1:43 2-5. This colt is supposed by many not to like the mud. He didn't act that way yesterday. He went through it like a barefoot boy through a mud puddle.

But the same was not true of Kentucky Cardinal, which was sent three uarters in 1:16. Though he exhibited no sign of distress at the end, he slipped and floundered around all the way.

Between the first and second races Frederick Johnson sent his colt, Quatrain, a mile and a furlong for a public trial. He carried the mile and eighth in 1:56 4-5 and calloped out another furlong to make the mile and a quarter in 2:11 3-5.

Johnson will not send Quatrain to the post between now and derby day. He is satisfied that the derby favorite is ready for the big race, and needs no more really hard work.

ST. LOUIS, May 11.—Five pitchers for the Brown were unable to stop the Yankees, who won yesterday's game, 13 to 1. Taking an early lead the Yankees held it throughout the contest.

Four Yanks in British Meet.

LONDON, May 11—Four Americans will compete in the British amateur golf championship starting at Westward Ho—May 25. They are: J. F. Bailey of Oak Hills; R. A. Stranahan of Inverness, Toledo; A. Bourne, of Garden City, N. Y., and Lois Van Uxen Cochran, of Onwentsia, Chicago.

Cochran will meet A. D. Mathieson, former boy champion, in the first round. The others drew byes.

SPORT SPARKS

If Philadelphia is the Sleepy City, the Athletics and the Phillies are the kind of sleepers found at race tracks. At any given moment they are likely to give the best team in the country a sound drubbing.

"Ruthless" means "helpless" to the Yankees.

The smoke of baseballs' opening battles has cleared away, and several clubs find themselves in what experts regard as the wrong pew. In the National league the slump of the Pirates has been the big surprise. The Phillies have been shooting away over their heads and the Dodgers have failed to hit their stride.

In the American league, the Yanks and the Tigers have stalled, while the Athletics and the Indians have been making more miles to the gallon than was deemed possible. The good work of the White Sox has brought a chorus of "I told you so's" from the many admirers of Edward Trowbridge Collins.

The Red Sox are in the rear rank, and, like General Grant, evidently will fight it out on that line all summer.

The Reds have not yet been in the cellar, but unfortunately several prohibition agents visited Garry Herrmann's cellar. Deprived of their invigorating lager, it is feared that the Reds will fade away to nothing on their diet of aqua pura and slip unresistingly into the depths of the second division.

Tigers Hammer Five Boston Hurlers, 13-5

DETROIT, May 11.—Five Boston pitchers failed to stop the Tigers yesterday and Detroit, belaying them for 15 hits, five of which were three baggers, smashed out a 13 to 5 victory before a crowd of 25,000.

Three Boston errors also figured in the scoring. Seven three-base hits were made. The games was played under leaden skies that added to the effectiveness of Stoner's fast ball.

Salem Athletes Are Victors Over County Foes In Annual Meet

Quaker City Runner Wins Half-mile Race With Deep Spike Wound in Ankle; Two Old Records are Toppled.

An exhibition of sheer grit and nerve by a Salem high school boy, who, with a deep spike wound in his right ankle from which blood dripped a trail around the track, and running with only one shoe, won the half mile race in the remarkably fast time of 2 minutes and 9 seconds; the breaking of a county shot put record which has stood supreme from 1912; the three-times shattering of a discus mark made in 1921, and a thrilling mile relay finish that produced a slam bang climax to the entire card—these were the high spots in the twenty-second annual county interscholastic track and field meet Saturday at Lisbon fair ground.

Salem walked off with meet honors, scoring a total of 41 and 5-6 points; East Palestine finished second with a score of 25¼ points after a thrilling battle with Wellsville, who landed third, with a score of 22 1-3 points. Leetonia was fourth with 19 1-3; Lisbon fifth with 16 1-3; Columbiana sixth, 14 1-3; East Liverpool seventh, with 4.

Salem landed points both on the track and in the field, as did East Palestine. Wellsville demonstrated field strength but with the exception of the quarter mile run, was only a passive performer on the track.

East Liverpool's points were recorded in the 100-yard dash and the mile relay. Kreefer placed fourth in the century run and the local relay squad finished second to Salem.

The first thrill of the afternoon was furnished when Perkins of Salem captured the half mile run, after running all save a little less than 100 yards with a spike wound in his right ankle. At the first curve in the track a runner at Perkins' side tripped and fell. The athlete immediately behind the man who fell was forced to jump the fallen runner, so suddenly did the accident occur, and when he leaped his spikes tore into Perkins' right ankle and pulled off his shoe. But Perkins carried on and with a margin that only a Nurmi could beat, finished far ahead of the field, only a little more than a second behind the county record. The lad fell in a heap at the finish mark and was carried to his dressing room. There a physician took five stitches in the cut.

The shot put record of 43 feet 11 inches, made by Hum, of Lisbon, which since 1912 has withstood the assaults of numerous athletes, finally fell, when Banks, diminutive Wellsville star, heaved the iron pellet a distance of 44 feet and 9 inches. Arbaugh, also of Wellsville, bettered Bank's mark by an inch, but on that particular throw he fouled and was disqualified and in later attempts he was unable to repeat.

To Schapernocker, East Palestine, goes honor for a new county mark in the discus throw.

One thrill after another swept the crowd of meet fans in this event, as the old record of 106 feet 2 inches, established by Alexander, of Salem, in 1921, was broken in three consecutive heaves by three athletes of different schools. The thrills were reserved for the finals in the event when Pignatore, of Wellsville, first into the ring, swung the discus for a distance of 106 feet 6¾ inches. Houser, of Salem, took his place and the grand stand was again electrified when the judges announced that the Quaker City boy had bettered Pignatore's toss by an inch and a quarter. The climax came when Schapernocker, not even regarded as a serious contender, and the next man up, tossed the iron for a distance of 108 feet 11¾ inches, and that mark stood without dispute.

A thrilling relay finish brought the meet to a close with Salem breaking the worsted only a few feet in advance of East Liverpool's runner, who, in turn, was but a step or so ahead of Wellsville.

220-yard hurdles—Gregg (Salem), won; Cornelli (Lisbon), 2; Miller, (Wellsville), 3; Judge (Salem), 4. Time—27 3-5s.

High jump—Fife (Leetonia), Neigh (Lisbon) and Holzapfel (Columbiana), tied for first; Thorne (Wellsville) and Gregg and Coffee (Salem), tied for fourth. Height—5 ft. 5¾ in.

100-yard dash—Kirtley (East Palestine, won; Brown (Columbiana), 2; Morrissey (Leetonia), 3; Kreffer, (East Liverpool, 4. Time— 10 4-5s.

Half mile run—Perkins (Salem), won; Allen (Salem), 2; Altamare (Leetonia), 3; Nichoals (Leetonia), 4. Time—2m. 9s.

Trotters Nose Out Laughlins In League Opener At Newell

Fowler's Nine Cuts Off Potters' Rally In Eighth Inning

Fielders Turn in Brilliant Performances; Seven Hits Collected by Each Club; Record Attendance for Early Season Clash.

The attendance almost equaling a local "baby world's series" contest, the City Industrial baseball league season at Newell was inaugurated on Saturday afternoon, Laughlin losing to the Trotters, 3 to 2, in a contest as brilliant as the occasion demanded.

The Potters had the tying and winning runs on the paths in the eighth after Smith, who had walked, finished on J. Strobel's error, V. Bailey's drive and Riser's out at first. Watson drew a pass, but Digman ended the chance for victory by flying to A. Bailey.

There was no scoring on either side until the fourth frame. Then Trotters annexed a run when Tisher muffed Pollock's long fly to right, the latter reaching second on the miscue and counting on Herbert's timely single through short.

The score was tied in the sixth when V. Bailey, singling, concluded the circuit on McGeehan's out at first and Watson's single.

In the seventh, Trotters forged to the front, Aufderheide scoring on his own double and V. Bailey's error on Hunselman's drive.

Herbert leaped into the air in the third inning and speared with his gloved hand H. Strobel's hard rap, headed for a safety.

Aufderheide fielded brilliantly in left for Trotters. V. Bailey, in the same territory, made a fine catch. E. Bailey accepted five chances at short and W. Mundy and Pollick likewise had even days at first, each garnering 13 assists without a wobble.

Barr and Digman allowed seven hits each. Digman whiffed five as against Barr's three and permitted one pass, while the latter walked three.

GOTHAM AWAITS BENEFIT BOUTS

Berlenbach-McTigue Will Top Milk Fund Card.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Barring the unforeseen return of Jack Dempsey to affairs of the fist, the best bout New York will see during the outdoor season will be held less than three weeks from today, the occasion being the annual milk fund show, the date May 29 and the principals, Mike McTigue and Paul Berlenbach. The match involves the essential combination of boxer versus fighter, which cannot be said to exist in the several remaining "shots" listed for the immediate future by local promoters.

Tex Rickard admitted today that he looked for Berlenbach to lift McTigue's light heavyweight title, which will come as a boon to mankind. He is hardly the most popular of ring champions, yet tossed in with a hasty young man like Berlenbach, he is due to put on the best exhibition he has yet given in an American ring.

McTigue will have to fight and when he has to, he can.

Berlenbach, on the other hand, has one chance and only one. He must get in close to land that murderous left of his and while he is engaged in this laudable endeavor, McTigue will be in an excellent position to indulge in his sharpshooting.

No matter what the outcome may be—a knockout for Berlenbach, a decision for McTigue—The writer can see only a great bout in prospect. Berlenbach will be hit a million times, more or less, but some time before the end of fifteen rounds, he is certain to hit McTigue once. And once may be ample, sufficient and enough.

He is, perhaps the only "one punch man," most popular of all fighters, before the boxing public today. Dempsey has beaten only one good man with a punch, to wit, Fred Fulton, and that young man has the floor complex. Nearly all of Berlenbach's knockouts have been one punch affairs. He hits them, they go.

But trying to hit McTigue is like taking careful aim at a butterfly with a sixteen pound shot. He is somewhat elusive.

Mochaetl may have something else to display at that. He claims he fought Walker, Stribling and others during the last two years with only a left hand. His right, he says, was smashed in the Siki fight, and remained, as was, until several months ago. Then a small segment of bone was removed by a local surgeon, and the result, according to McTigue, has been extremely beneficient. He claims he is twice the fighter he was, and Michael was never exactly a tramp, at that.

The Last Man in the World—

Mostil's Homer, With One on, Beats Nats

CHICAGO, May 11. — Johnny Mostil's home run drive into the left field bleachers with a runner on base broke up a 12-inning game yesterday and gave Chicago a 10 to 8 victory over Washington, before a crowd of more than 40,000 persons.

The world's champions went on a batting ramage in the sixth inning, driving Faber off the hill and with the aid of Connally's wildness scoring seven runs.

The Sox plugged along and tied the count in the eighth, when Gregg stepped in and checked the rally. Gregg weakened toward the finish. Lyons pitched great ball when he went to the mound.

With Dempsey Touring These Champs Draw Spotlight

Jack Dempsey has no idea of fighting until next fall if he fights at all this year. So the choicest tit-bit offered ring fans so far for the early summer is the bout booked between Harry Greb, middleweight champion of the world, and Mickey Walker, welterweight King. They will meet June 19 at the Polo grounds, New York city. Greb's title will be at stake. Photo shows Walker, left, matchmaker Jimmy De Forest, center, and Greb.

Aquatic Star

By Central Press

CHICAGO, May —That Miss Ethel Lackie, swimming star of the Illinois Athletic Club, is set to make things interesting for her sisters this season is indicated by her achievements todate, including the recent brilliant feats of the swimming 100 yards in a 75-foot pool in 1 minute, 3 and 3-5 seconds, and the negotiating of 220 yards in a 60-foot pool in 2 minutes, 45 seconds.

Miss Lackie tied a world's record in winning the 100-meter swim, free style, in the Olympic games at Paris last summer. Her time for the event was 1 minute, 12 and 3-5 seconds. In February this year she made a new world's record for that distance by clipping the three-fifths off her Olympic time. A few days later, at Tampa, Fla., she was credited with doing 100 meters in 1 minute, 10 and 1-5 seconds.

Giants Win Third of Series From Cards

NEW YORK, May 11.—The New York Giants won the third game of the series from St. Louis yesterday, 8 to 3. Jack Bentley pitched his fourth straight victory. Kelly hit a home run, with Young on base, in the third inning.

DERBY STARS AT LOUISVILLE

Several Candidates Have Workouts on Sloppy Track.

By THOMAS TEMPLE HOYNE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 11.—Eastern Derby candidates were present at Churchill Downs today. Sweeping Away and Prince of Bourbon, of the Xatapa farm stable; Almade, Hal Price Headley's colt that ran a bang-up race in the Preakness on Friday and finished third; and Single Foot, E. Griffith's colt, that was said to have been knocked out of it in the jam at the turn off the stretch in the Preakness, are now stabled here and will get their final preparation this week.

Chief Uncas is due tomorrow. So is Flying Ebony, a possible starter in the Derby. This is hte G. A. Cochran colt that last year on Derby day won a race for two-year-olds, duplicating the performance of Black Gold the year before. Tomorrow Trainer Jimmy Rowe is due about the same time with the Whitney horses, presumably Backbone and Chantey, and Bud Fisher's Swope is supposed to be enroute, although no certain notification of that has been received here.

All Saturday night it rained hard and most of yesterday a drizzle was falling, but a considerable crowd of enthusiasts went out to Churchill Downs nevertheless during the forenoon and were rewarded for their trouble by seeing a couple of the Derby colts in action.

Step Along, wearing blankets, with Jockey Lee Canfield in the saddle, stepped a mile through the sloppy going in 1:42 2-5. This colt is supposed by many not to like the mud. He didn't act that way yesterday. He went through it like a barefoot boy through a mud puddle.

But the same was not true of Kentucky Cardinal, which was sent three quarters in 1:16. Though he exhibited no sign of distress at the end, he slipped and floundered around all the way.

Between the first and second races Frederick Johnson sent his colt, Quatrain, a mile and a furlong for a public trial. He carried the mile and eighth in 1:56 4-5 and calloped out another furlong to make the mile and a quarter in 2:11 3-5.

Johnson will not send Quatrain to the post between now and derby day. He is satisfied that the derby favorite is ready for the big race, and needs no more really hard work.

ST. LOUIS, May 11.—Five pitchers for the Brown were unable to stop the Yankees, who won yesterday's game, 13 to 1. Taking an early lead the Yankees held it throughout the contest.

Four Yanks in British Meet.

LONDON, May 11—Four Americans will compete in the British amateur golf championship starting at Westward Ho—May 25. They are: J. F. Bailey of Oak Hills; R. A. Stranahan of Inverness, Toledo; A. Bourne, of Garden City, N. Y., and Lois Van Uxen Cochran, of Onwentsia, Chicago.

Cochran will meet A. D. Mathieson, former boy champion, in the first round. The others drew byes.

SPORT SPARKS

If Philadelphia is the Sleepy City, the Athletics and the Phillies are the kind of sleepers found at race tracks. At any given moment they are likely to give the best team in the country a sound drubbing.

"Ruthless" means "helpless" to the Yankees.

The smoke of baseballs' opening battles has cleared away, and several clubs find themselves in what experts regard as the wrong pew. In the National league the slump of the Pirates has been the big surprise. The Phillies have been shooting away over their heads and the Dodgers have failed to hit their stride.

In the American league, the Yanks and the Tigers have stalled, while the Athletics and the Indians have been making more miles to the gallon than was deemed possible. The good work of the White Sox has brought a chorus of "I told you so's" from the many admirers of Edward Trowbridge Collins.

The Red Sox are in the rear rank, and, like General Grant, evidently will fight it out on that line all summer.

The Reds have not yet been in the cellar, but unfortunately several prohibition agents visited Garry Herrmann's cellar. Deprived of their invigorating lager, it is feared that the Reds will fade away to nothing on their diet of aqua pura and slip unresistingly into the depths of the second division.

Tigers Hammer Five Boston Hurlers, 13-5

DETROIT, May 11.—Five Boston pitchers failed to stop the Tigers yesterday and Detroit, belaying them for 15 hits, five of which were three baggers, smashed out a 13 to 5 victory before a crowd of 25,000.

Three Boston errors also figured in the scoring. Seven three-base hits were made. The games was played under leaden skies that added to the effectiveness of Stoner's fast ball.

Salem Athletes Are Victors Over County Foes In Annual Meet

Quaker City Runner Wins Half-mile Race With Deep Spike Wound in Ankle; Two Old Records are Toppled.

An exhibition of sheer grit and nerve by a Salem high school boy, who, with a deep spike wound in his right ankle from which blood dripped a trail around the track, and running with only one shoe, won the half mile race in the remarkably fast time of 2 minutes and 9 seconds; the breaking of a county shot put record which has stood supreme from 1912; the three-times shattering of a discus mark made in 1921, and a thrilling mile relay finish that produced a slam bang climax to the entire card—these were the high spots in the twenty-second annual county interscholastic track and field meet Saturday at Lisbon fair ground.

Salem walked off with meet honors, scoring a total of 41 and 5-6 points; East Palestine finished second with a score of 25¼ points after a thrilling battle with Wellsville, who landed third, with a score of 22 1-3 points. Leetonia was fourth with 19 1-3; Lisbon fifth with 16 1-3; Columbiana sixth, 14 1-3; East Liverpool seventh, with 4.

Salem landed points both on the track and in the field, as did East Palestine. Wellsville demonstrated field strength but with the exception of the quarter mile run, was only a passive performer on the track.

East Liverpool's points were recorded in the 100-yard dash and the mile relay. Kreefer placed fourth in the century run and the local relay squad finished second to Salem.

The first thrill of the afternoon was furnished when Perkins of Salem captured the half mile run, after running all save a little less than 100 yards with a spike wound in his right ankle. At the first curve in the track a runner at Perkins' side tripped and fell. The athlete immediately behind the man who fell was forced to jump the fallen runner, so suddenly did the accident occur, and when he leaped his spikes tore into Perkins' right ankle and pulled off his shoe. But Perkins carried on and with a margin that only a Nurmi could beat, finished far ahead of the field, only a little more than a second behind the county record. The lad fell in a heap at the finish mark and was carried to his dressing room. There a physician took five stitches in the cut.

The shot put record of 43 feet 11 inches, made by Hum, of Lisbon, which since 1912 has withstood the assaults of numerous athletes, finally fell, when Banks, diminutive Wellsville star, heaved the iron pellet a distance of 44 feet and 9 inches. Arbaugh, also of Wellsville, bettered Bank's mark by an inch, but on that particular throw he fouled and was disqualified and in later attempts he was unable to repeat.

To Schapernocker, East Palestine, goes honor for a new county mark in the discus throw.

One thrill after another swept the crowd of meet fans in this event, as the old record of 106 feet 2 inches, established by Alexander, of Salem, in 1921, was broken in three consecutive heaves by three athletes of different schools. The thrills were reserved for the finals in the event when Pignatore, of Wellsville, first into the ring, swung the discus for a distance of 106 feet 6¾ inches. Houser, of Salem, took his place and the grand stand was again electrified when the judges announced that the Quaker City boy had bettered Pignatore's toss by an inch and a quarter. The climax came when Schapernocker, not even regarded as a serious contender, and the next man up, tossed the iron for a distance of 108 feet 11¾ inches, and that mark stood without dispute.

A thrilling relay finish brought the meet to a close with Salem breaking the worsted only a few feet in advance of East Liverpool's runner, who, in turn, was but a step or so ahead of Wellsville.

Dodgers Trim Reds In Twelve Innings

BROOKLYN, May 11.—Brooklyn defeated the Cincinnati Reds yesterday, 9 to 8, in the twelfth inning, when three runs were scored on a pair of doubles and two singles, with two bases on balls.

The Reds knocked Osborne out of the box and overcame a six-run lead in the eighth inning, and forged ahead by two runs in the twelfth, when Roush hit a home run, with Pinelli on base.

Luque, Red pitcher, was removed from the game in the fifth inning when he threw his bat at Osborne after being hit by a pitched ball.

New Movie Invention May Startle Industry; Plays More Effective

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May — A new type of motion pictures, which many believe will revolutionize the industry, has been successfully shown in Hollywood. What's Wrong With 'Em?

Ty Cobb, manager of the Detroit Tigers, may be asking himself that question as he studies his team at play. Apparently fortified in the infield and strengthened in the pitching staff the Tigers loomed as a formidable outfit a few weeks ago. But so far they have been kittens instead of Tigers.

Tagging The Bases

Adolfo Luque won the bat throwing contest, Umpire Rigler gained a rolling fall over "Tiny" Osborne and the Dodgers won the ball game from the Reds, 9 to 8, in the 12th inning on Taylor's pinch double with three on. Luque hurled his bat at Osborne when hit by a pitched ball and was elected. Osborne rushed the Cuban and was thrown behind his own goal line by Rigler. A fine time was had by all.

In spite of the fact that Sisler hit safely in his 25th consecutive game the Yankees ran amuck against Wingard, Grant, Stauffer and Falk and beat the Browns, 13 to 1.

Mostil's homer off Gregg with one on staked the White Sox to a 10 to 8 decision over the Senators.

The Tigers mauled five Red Sox pitchers and won going away by a score of 13 to 5.

Dodgers Trim Reds In Twelve Innings

BROOKLYN, May 11.—Brooklyn defeated the Cincinnati Reds yesterday, 9 to 8, in the twelfth inning, when three runs were scored on a pair of doubles and two singles, with two bases on balls.

The Reds knocked Osborne out of the box and overcame a six-run lead in the eighth inning, and forged ahead by two runs in the twelfth, when Roush hit a home run, with Pinelli on base.

Luque, Red pitcher, was removed from the game in the fifth inning when he threw his bat at Osborne after being hit by a pitched ball.

New Movie Invention May Startle Industry; Plays More Effective

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May — A new type of motion pictures, which many believe will revolutionize the industry, has been successfully shown in Hollywood. The new pictures show the figures of persons, as well as other objects, round. Nothing with rounded surfaces appears in the new films flat, as in present productions.

What's Wrong With 'Em?

Ty Cobb, manager of the Detroit Tigers, may be asking himself that question as he studies his team at play. Apparently fortified in the infield and strengthened in the pitching staff the Tigers loomed as a formidable outfit a few weeks ago. But so far they have been kittens instead of Tigers.

Tagging The Bases

Adolfo Luque won the bat throwing contest, Umpire Rigler gained a rolling fall over "Tiny" Osborne and the Dodgers won the ball game from the Reds, 9 to 8, in the 12th inning on Taylor's pinch double with three on. Luque hurled his bat at Osborne when hit by a pitched ball and was elected. Osborne rushed the Cuban and was thrown behind his own goal line by Rigler. A fine time was had by all.

In spite of the fact that Sisler hit safely in his 25th consecutive game the Yankees ran amuck against Wingard, Grant, Stauffer and Falk and beat the Browns, 13 to 1.

Mostil's homer off Gregg with one on staked the White Sox to a 10 to 8 decision over the Senators.

The Tigers mauled five Red Sox pitchers and won going away by a score of 13 to 5.

RETIRED FARMER APPRECIATES LIFE

Morgantown Resident Dates All Events From Time He First Took Ka-di-ok—Results Are Lasting.

MR. STARK DANIELS
Morgantown, W. Va.

Mr. Stark Daniels, a retired farmer, now living at No. 3 Locust street, Morgantown, W. Va., offers himself as an example of what Ka-di-ok, the wonderful stomach tonic and system builder, will do for a system which was broken down a year ago, rebuilt in a couple of months, and which "stays put."

Mr. Daniels was one of the first devotees to Ka-di-ok when it was introduced in Morgantown, about a year ago. At that time he was suffering from indigestion with all the attendant ills. He took a treatment of Ka-di-ok at that time. Recently he met the Ka-di-ok representative and stated that as a result of his recovery through the use of Ka-di-ok, he started other members of his family taking it, with just as successful results as in his own case. "It made me appreciate life," he said. "I like Ka-di-ok; it is our family medicine chest; we always keep it on hand."

So one can see by the experience of Mr. Daniels and others that Ka-di-ok leaves a lasting impression. Its results are final; there are no harmful, habit-forming drugs in its preparation, and the results achieved through this wonderful and marvelous medicine are lasting.

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathews' Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 W. 6th street.

Hush, Little Baby.
"Reds" Squeak and Gibber.
Somebody Must Be Rich.
We Must Learn, Rev. Sir.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

The president invites business to take its mind off Washington, "free from apprehension of sudden frightening developments," and attend to its knitting.

To big business that message sounds like the voice of a mother singing, "Go to sleep, my baby, mamma won't let the black man get you."

The black man in this case is radicalism.

But, unhappily, you can't keep a bad radical down. New York radicals hired the Metropolitan opera house for a "musical fete" and then sang "The Internationale." That's a revolutionary hymn, containing the preposterous suggestion that all men are equal, and they should divide property on a communist basis.

You haven't heard the worst. Those radicals actually sang, stamped their feet and told what they would do to "capitalistic government," sitting right in the exclusive boxes of the opera house's "diamond horseshoe.

That's where fashionable ladies sit in the season, with ropes of pearls around their necks, diamond "stomachers" over their little solar plexuses, diamond tiaras on their heads, innocently imagining themselves quite different from their African sister with a piece of bone stuck through her lower lip. And, that's where the husbands sit behind the pearls and diamonds, wondering what they will do to the stock market next day.

Can you imagine radicals selecting such a hallowed spot for their manifestation? It reminds you of gruesome spirits that "did squeak and gibber" in the streets of Rome.

The next time anybody asks "how do things look?" you can reply "well somebody has got money."

The turnover by check in New York's banks on a single day last week was one billion six hundred and ninety-seven million dollars, breaking the highest record previously held by London.

You have read about that single check for $140,000,000, biggest on record, paid by Clarence Dillon of Dillon, Read & Co. for the Dodge motor business.

Our business men are doing things on a big scale. And they must operate in a big way if they want to compete with Europe, where whole nations go into business on a national scale.

Individual concerns here, like Judge Gary's steel company, Mr. Rockefeller's oil concern, Henry Ford's automobile business eclipse by 100 per cent or more any similar individual or national business anywhere else in the world. The thing to do is to hold that supremacy. Business counts.

Dean Inge of St. Paul's, London, says an autocracy like that of Germany is better than any democracy, especially in an emergency. He mentions the wonders accomplished by Germany during the war, holding off for five years Russia, France, England, Belgium, Canada, Australia, Japan, etc., including Italy and the United States part of the time.

The Very Rev. Inge says the weak spot in German autocracy was the kaiser. That's it. You cannot have autocracy without an autocrat, and your autocrat is the accident of birth. You may have a strong man in one reign, a half idiot blusterer in an-

"Home"

What a magic word this is! To men and women the world over, the mere mention of home calls up some cherished vision—some ideal home. It may be only a humble cottage or it may be a stately mansion. But it is home—the end to which every enterprise and endeavor tends.

In observance of National Better Homes Week our Information Bureau will offer each day of this week one or two free booklets on some subject of vital importance to the homemaker or home builder.

Today's offering is a booklet that will aid you in selecting suitable plans for a home of your own. It contains exterior views and floor plans of 60 brick homes which are architecturally correct.

You can get your copy by sending your name and address to our Washington Information Bureau enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage. In filling out the coupon be sure to write clearly.

200 MEN JOBLESS AS FIRE DESTROYS SEWER PIPE PLANT IN IRONDALE

Blaze Sweeps No. 1 Unit, Five-story Frame Structure, of East Ohio Company Sunday Afternoon, Causing Loss Estimated at $300,000, Partly Covered by Insurance.

TWO MEN, TRAPPED WHEN FLAMES CUT OFF STAIRWAYS, LEAP TO SAFETY

Spontaneous Combustion is Believed to Have Caused Fire Which Razes One of Village's Chief Industries on Eve of Resumption of Operations in Full—Plan to Rebuild.

Fire, believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion, destroyed plant No. 1, a five-story structure, 100x300 feet of the East Ohio Sewer Pipe company at Irondale at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon causing a loss estimated at $300,000.

Two hundred men are jobless as a result of the blaze, which spread with such rapidity, that the plant was in ruins within a half hour after the fire was discovered in the engine r oom by Engineer William Frampton.

George Saltsman and another member of an eight-man repair crew, at work in the building, were trapped on the third floor when the flames cut off the stairway. They made their way to the second floor, leaped from a window to the roof of the boiler house and hen dropped to the ground. Neither was injured.

With Irondale without an organized fire department, the only means of fighting the blaze was equipment at the sewer pipe plant. One line of hose was turned on the flames, but the fire gained such headway that it was destroyed before a second line of hose could be attached to a water plug.

Operate No. 2 Plant.

Preparations were being made to resume operations in full at the No. 1 plant today. During the last several weeks, the plant, one of the chief industries of the village, has been running on a part time basis.

The East Ohio Sewer Pipe company of which William Banfield, of Steubenville, is president, operates another unit in Irondale.

Fred O'Resney, manager of the fire-swept plant, which was the original unit erected in Irondale by the company, is in Stanton, Va., for the benefit of his health.

William Williams, of Irondale, is the plant superintendent.

Officials of the company said that steps probably would be taken to rebuild the plant as soon as insurance, which partly covers the loss, is adjusted.

About 200 men are employed in the No. 2 plant.

FATHER UPSETS CUPID'S PLANS

Contemplated Elopement of Sisters Thwarted in Chester.

The timely arrival of the father and two brothers of two pretty Youngstown girls, sisters, aged 16 and 18 years, at a Chester restaurant early this morning, halted a contemplated double elopement which was to have culminated at New Cumberland.

The two girls and their would-be-husbands left Youngstown late yesterday afternoon for New Cumberland, where they intended to marry without the consent of the parents of the brides-elect. The father, becoming suspicious, when the girls did not return home at an early hour this morning, started toward East Liverpool in pursuit of his daughters, whom he believed to be headed for West Virginia's Gretna green, New Cumberland.

Following a trail that led across the bridge into Chester, the father found the two girls eating breakfast in the Weldon restaurant, Carolina avenue, at 7 o'clock. Their two gentlemen friends had driven their machine to a gasoline filling station less than 200 feet away to obtain gas, leaving their brides-elect in the restaurant.

The two sisters were placed in their father's car and started back to Youngstown. The young men, chagrined, also returned to Youngstown, but in their own car.

"DOC" STORK BEAT FREQUENT PATH TO EAST LIVERPOOL DURING LAST YEAR

Ceramic City Sets Pace in Births for State, With Middletown Second, is Report of Columbus Statisticians.

If Cleveland and Toledo and some of the other big cities of Ohio don't watch out, they will find some day that population figures of some of the smaller Ohio towns are beginning to threaten.

This may be merely another hollow statement, but Columbus statisticians who make it their business to check up on every visit of the famous "Doc" Stork, have learned that in Ohio the "Doctor" in 1924 beat a frequent path to East Liverpool and Middletown, while the trips to Cleveland and Toledo fell off.

There were 658 new babies taken to East Liverpool by him last year—30.1 for every 1,000 of population. Middletown, which ranked second in the state, filled its baby quota with 863 new citizens, at 29.1 a thousand population. Hamilton, which ranked third, received 1,108 babies, or 27.7 to every thousand.

East Cleveland particularly was shunned, as well as Cleveland Heights and Norwood. In 1924 Cleveland Heights received but 4.1 babies per 1,000 population. East Cleveland got 5 for every thousand and Norwood 7.

Dayton, Cincinnati and Columbus all showed slight ihcreases, while Cleveland and Toledo manifested decreases.

The queerness of old "Doc" Stork for every 1,000 persons in Lorain, was shown when he took 25.5 babies while he practically boycotted—or "girlcotted"—East Cleveland, which is only a few miles away.

HOOVER TELLS STATES AND CITIES TO SEEK REMEDY FOR THEIR ILLS

Secretary of Commerce, Speaks at Advertising Club Convention, Says Country Thinks Washington is Cure-all.

HOUSTON, Tax., May 11.—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover today told the county to quit looking toward Washrington for cures for all its ills.

"We are confronted with the daily demand to extend government in order to cure some abuse or other," Hoover said, addressing the 21st annuel convention of the Associated advertising club of the world. "The arm of the federal government is a poor cure for abuse for it at once becomes a restraint of liberty and it cannot operate even to restrain evil without bringing about some instance of oppression.

Hoover asserted that the country needs to have its mind turned off of national government cure idea, according to Hoover as "Everybody knows of some ill in the other fellow's business that ought to be cured right away."

"If we can decentralize thought onto state and municipal governments we shall automoatically stop the growth of federal encouragement, he continued.

In Hoover's opinion, the test of the whole economic and the social system is its capacity to cure its own abuses. He held that if the country is to be wholly dependent upon government to cure wrongs, "We shall have his very method created an enlarged and deadening abuse through the extension of bureaucracy and the clumsy and incapable handling of other, a weakling used by a Bismarck in another and so on.

Also Rev. Dean Inge, comparing democracy with autocracy is like comparing a baby held in its nurse's arms with a baby trying to walk, falling down and bumping its little forehead.

The child is safer, of course, in the arms of its autocrat, the nurse. But it must learn to walk sometime. That's what we are doing in America and what they are doing, perhaps more efficiently in Berlin, preserving their king as a convenient sympol. We're just practicing democracy, holding on to the coat tail of plutocracy to steady ourselves a little. Come around in 500 or 1,000 years and we'll show you.

Ned McLean, philosopher, writes "The agricultural bloc cannot understand why Colorado farmers pray for rain when all that is necessary is to pass a law."

The agricultural bloc, perhaps, has been studying railroads. They do not pray for higher rates. They go before the interstate commerce commission and get them. If farmers could work on the railroad plan they would not have to pray for rain. But high finance and government say to them, "You farmers must obey the natural law of supply and demand. What about the railroads? Oh, that's a different business."

In Sofia communists and others described as "Reds" are trying to kill King Boris. We can't understand why Boris wants to be king, or why anybody wants to kill him.

It is the custom outside of Bulgaria to attribute the "Red" disorders in Sofia to machinations of the Russian government.

The local cause of the trouble, which will not soon end, is the hunting down and murdering of the leader of the Bulgarian peasants. Thus civil war in Bulgaria is more like the Jacquerie in old France than any modern revolution. And, the Jacquerie was not pleasant.

Brotherly love is beautiful, and some communists support their plan for dividing up all property by pointing to heaven, where, of course, nobody owns land on streets of gold or other property.

But, brotherly love and communism—our fate, perhaps, hereafter—are not good for business down here. The Russian government realizes that, and restores the Russian mines to then original owners because it wants the mines to be worked. It encourages Russians to go into business and make money if they can.

To take money making, which means the gratifying of selfishness and desire of wealth, out of a government is like taking the mainspring out of a watch. The watch continues to look pretty, but it doesn't tick, and the hands don't move.

The jeweler knows what he is about when he puts a mainspring in a watch and providence knew what it was about when it put selfishness into human beings. That's what makes us work, and we're here to work.

Would the American frontiersmen have gone out to clear the forest and fight bears and Indians, to the day of their death, if they hadn't wanted to own the land?

baugher, plowed through the guard railing on the southside of Pennsylvania avenue near the "red steps" late Saturday night and came to a stop when it struck a tree. The driver was not hurt.

Two machines, one of them owned by Richard Carson, of this city, crashed head-on at a point about one and a half miles north of Stop 55 on the Lincoln highway at 6 o'clock Sunday evening. Both cars were badly damaged. Carson's being brought to this city by McElravy Brothers and the other car, the name of the owner of which was not learned, was taken to Lisbon.

A coupe, said to have been driven by a Canton woman, had a close call from toppling into Beaver Creek near the bridge, west of Smiths Ferry yesterday afternoon. The car was stopped after one of the front wheels went over the side of the road. The car was pulled back to the road by the McElravy Brothers' wreck crew, and the woman continued her journey.

Hoover Tells States

delicate moral and economic forces."

American business, according to Hoover, needs a lifting purpose greater than the struggle of materialism. It requires, he added, a finer regard for the rights of others, a stronger devotion to obligations of citizenship that will assure an improved leadership in every community and in the nation.

Hoover showed that advertising is playing a fundamental part in the American economic system and that through this medium living standards have been raised.

"Modern advertising is the handmaiden of mass production," he said. "The impulse of advertising has added to the distribution of news, information, good cheer and educational material to our people. Obviously were it not for the vast extension of national advertising we should never have the fine development of our periodical magazines, and were it not for the growth of the local newspaper advertising our publishers would not be able to produce the great journals which are of such incalcuable value.

JUDGMENT DAY NEAR, IS CLAIM

G. M. Wilson Speaks on Subject at Bible Students' Meet.

That the world's Judgment day is nearer was the declaration of G. M. Wilson, Pittsburgh, in a lecture at the Ceramic Cafeteria auditorium Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the International Bible Students' Association.

"Vague and indefinite ideas prevail concerning the Judgment day," said the speaker. "Some think that Jesus will be seated upon a literal cloud and judge the world in a 24-hour day; others say that each person is judged at the moment of death and therefore a judgment is unnecessary.

"In the restoration or kingdom period mankind will be freed from Adamic condemnation, the death penalty will be lifted and Satan shall be bound for 1,000 years. Satan has been promoter of ignorance and superstition and selfishness, but Christ will promote truth, righteousness and love and will take away the causes for sickness, old age and death. Those passing the final judgment will receive the grant of eternal life from God and those who fail in the final judgment will die the second death.

HIGH SCHOOL TROPHY STOLEN

Field Meet Cup Disappears From Lisbon Office.

Officials of the Columbiana County Track and Field Association today had no solution to the mysterious disappearance of the large silver trophy cup which was taken from the ticket office at the county fairground, Lisbon, while the twenty-second annual field meet of the association was under way Saturday afternoon.

The loss of the cup was discovered shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday evening, when officials entered the ticket booth for the awarding of medals to individual winners and the trophy to Salem high school, which won the meet.

The cup had been brought from East Palestine high school, which had won the meet last year, to Lisbon on Saturday morning. It was placed in the ticket office at the entrance to the fairground. At 3:30 o'clock the sale of tickets ceased and officials in charge of the booth locked the doors and left in order to witness the late afternoon events.

When they returned, the cup was gone. Neither the door nor the windows bore evidences of having been forced, it is said.

Superintendent W. H. Geiger, of Lisbon high school, today announced that every effort will be made to locate the missing cup, which has been in service since 1915.

If the cup is not found, the association will purchase another trophy for the meet winners, Mr. Geiger said.

Berlin Cheers

izations the right to use their bands during the parade. The order declared that any organization bringing its band would be dissolved immediately.

The Nationalists planned to make Hindenburg's arrival from Hanover a day of triumph for their party as well as one of adulation for the victory.

While it was a day of rejoicing for the Nationalists. There was in the city the tension which precedes a situation fraught with dangerous possibilities. The Communists had ordered a 24-hour strike as a protest against the election of Hindenburg.

Cheered at Hanover.

HANOVER, Germany, May 11.—President-elect Paul Von Hindenburg left Hanover this afternoon enroute for his triumphal entry into Berlin.

"I will continue to do my duty," Hindenburg said to crowds at the station just before his train left for Berlin. "I know only unity can save us. I promise special consideration for the poor and miserable. I will work toward unification of all classes. I hope to lead the people from strife back to unity."

"Hoch Deutschland," he called from the parlor car window.

Thousands answered his cries with cheers, then burst into the strains of "Deutschland Uber Alles."

RUM ROW PLAYS HIDE AND SEEK

Government's Dry Navy in Big Game Off Atlantic Coast.

WASHINGTON, May 11. — Rum runners and the government's dry navy were playing a gigantic game of hide and seek off the Atlantic coast today.

Reports to coast guard headquarters showed that the liquor ships are shifting their position and that rum row apparently is scattering.

The marine "secret service" was keeping a close check on the whereabouts of the 40 foreign vessels which make up the Atlantic liquor colony.

Coast guard cutters and patrol boats were close on the heels of the liquor ships which have deserted rum row. When "escorts" were not available, the Chesapeake bay fleet was notified by radio to be on the lookout for the southbound rum runners and to inform "G. H. Q." at Washington of the new location.

The big war map in the office of Admiral F. C. Billard, commandant of the coast guard, showed a different aspect than on the first day of the drive.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The United States "dry navy" blocking the whisky armada 30 miles at sea, was on the alert in anticipation of the possibility of a dash for freedom on the part of the "rum fleet."

A heavy fog, hanging thickly over a calm sea, was looked upon by coast guard officers as the "break" which rum skippers have been waiting for since the beginning of the rigid blockade a week ago.

Some prohibition officers believed the bootleggers would take advantage of the mist and slip away to a new base of operations. In some quarters it was reported the booze fleet was heading for Chesapeake bay.

In anticipation of any such move it was said the government already had assembled another "dry fleet" off the Virginia capes.

Only one boat has attempted to run the blockade through New York Harbor. She escaped, but not before tossing more than 100 cases of liquor overboard to increase her speed.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Bids for the three 100-foot patrol boats to be added to the government's dry navy, will be opened here May 15 the coast guard announced today.

EAST LIVERPOOL — AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

MONDAY, MAY 11, 1925.

May 16 And 17 Poppy Days

Men, women and children of East Liverpool will be asked to assist in defraying the expenses of the Memorial Day observance here by purchasing poppies, the Flanders blossom, made famous in song and poetry during the World war.

The G. A. R., Sons of Veterans and American Legion will conduct a joint campaign next Friday and Saturday, which have been designated as Poppy Days.

School children, under the direction of Mrs. George Obney, Poppy Day chairman, expect to dispose of 14,000 of the red blossoms on the streets. Funds raised in the campaign will be expended in providing for a proper tribute to soldiers, sailors and marines who have gone to their eternal reward.

East Liverpool will pay homage to scores of martyrs of the Civil, Spanish-American and World wars on Memorial Day. Graves of the hero dead will be decorated, while exercises commemorating their valiant deeds and sacrifices will be held.

Lest we forget, 318,203 Americans made the supreme sacrifice in defense of the nation in the World war, while other thousands died in the wars of 1861 and 1898.

White House Housecleaning

House renovating time in the rest of the country is also house renovating time in Washington, D. C. The family that has been painting, papering, varnishing and furbishing things generally in its own home is only doing on a small scale what has to be done at the White House on a large scale.

Of course, Mrs. Coolidge is the only housewife for whose spring housecleaning operations congress appropriated $50,000, but also she is the only one who has so old and so large and so important a mansion to renovate.

From the more familiar jobs of replacing rugs and draperies and having old upholstered furniture refinished, to remodeling and modernizing the elevator, plumbing and vacuum cleaning systems, there is much going on at the White House. The first lady of the land has to plan and oversee a good deal of it. She doesn't have to don a bungalow apron and wield scrubbing brush or rug beater herself, but she has executive duties to perform with which every efficient housewife in the land can sympathize.

Seven Social Sins

A great English divine recently preached a sermon on "seven social sins." He named his seven points and carefully expounded each one in a very fine series of arguments. The New Orleans Times-Picayune finds them sufficiently important and interesting to stand along and lists them, without the preacher's explanations, as follows:

Politics with principle.
Wealth without work.
Pleasure without conscience.
Knowledge without character.
Industry without morality.
Science without humanity.
Worship without sacrifice.

They are recognizable evils. Expressed simply, they are easy for the thoughtful individual to understand, to meditate upon and to apply as a test to his own and his community's activities.

A Shade-Tree City

Does any public official or department here have a complete record of all city trees? Toronto, Can., believes it has the happy distinction of having more shade trees on its streets than any other city on the continent. Further, its park department has accurate knowledge concerning every one of its 126,000. Within 30 seconds, it is said, any tree on any street could be identified and described as to species, age, general health and variety.

With such detailed knowledge it may be assumed that trees are pruned of sprayed or cared for in any way that is needed, that dead trees are promptly replaced, and that other trees will be set out.

Rivalry as to human population is common enough, but very few communities take a tree census that is so thorough and so useful as Toronto's. Yet the title "shade tree city" is one well worth holding.

Good Bodies, Good Minds

Here is something of interest to parents and educators about children's intelligence. In Bloomington, Ind., after the school pupils had had the usual intelligence tests, two groups of them were given physical tests. One group represented children of high mentality and the other children of low mentality. It was found that those who stood high in the intelligence tests rated higher in physical development than the children with a low intelligence rating.

Thus a prevalent notion that the bright children are likely to be physical weaklings is disproved. It is found that good minds and good bodies tend to go together.

Good bodies make brighter minds. Brighter minds do their part toward making good bodies, though that influence is less obvious. The two go together oftener than people realize, giving new force to the idea that mental dullness is usually traceable to bad physical condition.

The old tire usually blows out just before you make a mileage record with it.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 11.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepy's: Up by eight o'clock and made a melancholy talk to some students of journalism and then to Dean Cornwell's studio and he tells of going to Palestine to do some painting and will be gone a year.

And A. M. Andrews, the banker, came and sat awhile and I covered with confusion at his discovery that I had no sock on my right foot. So to breakfast and a fellow made such noises drinking his coffee that I turned sick and left.

Home and tried to write a piece I had promised to do and such a hack job I tore it up. In the evening to dinner and met Luther Reed and his fair lady Naomi Childers and so to bed early.

One of the two remaining yards in midtown New York is to give way to building progress. It's a court yard hidden away opposite the south side of the Hotel Astor and blooms with trees and flowers. It is owned by the Astor estate and was known as Westover Court—an apartment building for bachelors.

With the tearing down of the Putnam Building, on whose roof the electrical wriggly twins did their nightly jiggling, the Westover Court also comes down. One of the largest motion picture theatres in the world is to rise on the site.

The other yard is on Fifth Avenue in the Thirties. It is a part of the gloomy and shuttered mansion so long one of the avenue's mysteries. The yard, worth millions, is preserved by two old ladies as a playground for their dogs.

No one is ever seen entering or leaving the house. No light shines there at night.

Taxicabs are growing so cheap in New York that Frisco, the dancer, declares he saw a peddler driving up and down Broadway in one peddling shoelaces.

"Abie's Irish Rose" is entering its fourth year, breaking all records for American theatrical runs. The producers believe it will last for five years. The nearest rival was "Lightnin'," which ran for 153 weeks. "The Bat" ran 104 weeks and the "Gold Diggers" for 90 weeks. There is no explaining the success of the play. It is the thinnest sort of hokum and it might be argued that on account of its racial features its appeal was strictly New Yorkish, but this has been disproven by its conspicuous success on the road.

Irvin Cobb and I have adjoining lots upon which he will build a pretentious home and I a modest structure. The lots are in a suburb of Houston, Tex., where we expect to spend your declining days after the New York wear and tear. For some time I have been trying to fashion a name for the place. It is not elegant enough to call "Idlewild Villa" or something like that, and is to my notion too fine to call "Dandruff-on-the-Knob." I sometimes think the best of all suggestions is simply "The Place." Owning a home in a suburb gives one a chance to join New York high-hatters who enjoy referring to their country estates after spending an entire evening leading up to this grand flourish.

New Yorkers like to think their city blase and yet no cross roads hamlet is so curious and naive. Jack Dempsey or Babe Ruth out walking will snarl up traffic on any street here. It required all the available police in the district to make a path for Gloria Swanson to enter a theatre. Jack Hazzard used to bring out reserves by the simple expedient of looking for a lost coin in front of the Lambs.

It was Hazzard also, I believe, who, when a block in West 44th St., was torn up, put up a sign reading: "On this spot Dave Warfield lost a nickel."

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A National Police Bureau.

NEW YORK CITY, May 11.—At the International Police Conference being held in New York City May 12 to 16 steps will be taken for a new and more forceful appeal to Congress to establish a National Police Bureau for this country. This is a measure which is advocated by 700 municipal police department and the need for it is so widely recognized that the leaders in the movement believe that congress will take the necessary action at the approaching session.

Most conspicuous among the advocates of a National Police Bureau is Police Commissioner Richard E. Enright, of New York City, who says that there is no country in the world of the magnitude of the United States in which there is less cooperation between the police forces, or where the exercise of police power is more localized.

As Commissioner Enright points out, there are some 55 separate national, state, territorial and colonial governments in this country and its colonies, each one having a different penal code and code of criminal procedure. There is no established place through which important police information is or could be cleared. There is no central bureau available to municipal police forces where records of criminal identification can be obtained without cost.

There is no place where the criminal statistics of the several States, Territories and Colonies are officially collected. There is no national criminal laboratory available to assist state or municipal police forces in the apprehension of criminals or the suppression or prevention of crime. Nothing has been accomplished to standardize the penal laws or codes of criminal procedure of the several states, territories and colonies.

"It is my earnest belief that a National Police bureau, to be located preferably at Washington, should be established at once," says Mr. Enright. "It is my belief that through general coordination under such a central organization the crime rate of America could be reduced during the next five years by not less than 50 per cent and that its elimination to the point of the irreducible minimum would follow soon thereafter."

Inefficient and Impractical.

While Americans boast of their commercial efficiency they should realize, it is pointed out, that the total absence and lack of articulation and coordination in the transactions of their police forces make them the most inefficient and impractical known in the civilized world, and the result bears heavily upon the national economy and the public generally.

There has never been any attempt, either by the national, state, county or municipal governments or police organizations to prepare and adopt a plan for efficient police cooperation. Indeed, it is asserted that while every

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

NEW INJUNCTION RULE IS SOUGHT

Coal Operators Spring Surprise in Contempt Case Hearing.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 11.—Operators threw a bomb into defense of United Mine Workers' members, arraigned in federal court for contempt today, when they filed a bill of complaint asking for a new injunction to supplant that now in force, and under which contempt proceedings were instituted. The new injunction is along drastic lines, and is modeled after the injunction granted some years ago to the Hitchman Coal company against John Mitchell, then miners' head, and others.

The petitioner is the West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal company.

The new injunction would forbid all activities by the union or its members, and would supplement the injunction now in effect which the court last week ruled must be amended to permit of "peaceful persuasion." Those named by the operators in the new bill of complaint today are: International President John L. Lewis; Philip Murray, national vice president, and Van A. Bittner, national organizer; President Lee Hall, of sub-district No. 6, of Ohio; his vice president, William Roy, and Secretary-Treasurer G. W. Savage; President Frank Ledvinka, of sub-district No. 5, Vice President John Lonque, Secretary-Treasurer W. T. Roberts and Joseph Angelo, organizer.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 11.—A crisis in the strike of coal miners in the Panhandle counties of West Virginia opened today in federal court here, when Judge Baker will decide whether or not a score of miners, including International President John L. Lewis, are in contempt of an injunction granted the West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal company in 1913, and made permanent in 1923.

The case comes before the court this morning upon presentment of fact by counsel for miners and operators, and will be followed by argument prior to the court deciding whether or not contempt existed, upon the part of mine officials and members and whether they are to be further prosecuted.

The action today is the next step following ruling of the court last week that peaceful persuasion could be legally used by miners in the strike for unionization, and that the permanent injunction should have so specified a modification that had been directed by the court of appeals at Richmon, Va.

The presentment of fact and argument today is attracting as much attention as earlier stages of the legal struggle that has marked the strike, the court room being filled to overflowing long before it was called to order.

In Memoriam.

In memory of Julian Andrew Swartz. Died May 11th, 1921:
We say good-bye, yet not farewell;
Where I am, ye, too, shall dwell.
I am gone before your face,
A moments time, a little space,
When you come where I have stepped,
Ye will wonder why you wept;
Ye will know, by, wise love taught,
That here is all, and there is naught.
Weep a little, if ye age fain,
Sunshine still must follow rain;
Only not at death,—for death
Now I know, is that first breath
Which our souls draw when we enter
Life, which is of all life center.
Be ye strong of heart, and
Come bravely ownward to your home.

The Value of the Rust Proof Oven
It is the oven that usually cuts short the usefulness of the average gas range. The ordinary gas oven soon rusts out, begins to bake poorly and makes it worthless.
Every A-B RANGE is built to endure in service as well as to beautify. The oven is lined with Wilden metal—a patented aluminum alloy which is guaranteed never to rust or corrode—insuring long life, refreshing newness and dependable efficiency.
Other notable features which you will want in a new gas range you buy are smooth, white genuine porcelain surfaces—clean glass oven doors, patented gas-saving burners and the famous A-B Oven Heat Control.
A-B Gas Ranges are made in a wide variety of styles and sizes to satisfy any individual need or preference.

Haskin's Letter

community, town, village or city, regardless of population, has an effective police organization of some sort, each local police organization is a law unto itself, and the relations it may have with any similar organization are of the most uncertain, casual and perfunctory character.

It is necessary for one of these local organizations to seek information or assistance from another police authority it requires as much formality and red tape as would be necessary in communications between the ambassadors of different nations. Instead of frequent confidential exchange of experiences and police information there seems to be an atmosphere of suspicion, jealousy, or actual hostility no one said or the other, and whatever benefit might be accomplished in an attempt at cooperation is nullified before the preliminary gestures are commenced.

"It is obvious," declares Commissioner Enright, "that such a condition in respect to the efficient cooperation of police forces in the exercise of police power between different localities of the same nation is ridiculous and would not be permitted for a period of one day in any first rate continental nation."

Fine for the Criminals.

By way of illustration it may be pointed out that there is a large number of separate collections of fingerprints in this country, and that by far the most of these are in the hands of police departments. However, it is asserted that these collections can never be really effective, nor can any organization now collecting fingerprints be effective, until some well designed agency is created, financed and operated by the federal government, to collect, file and make available to all proper authorities all records of criminal identification throughout the country.

Under this vicious lack of police system, continues the commissioner, a professional criminal may operate in many states and cities with the same freedom enjoyed by the amateur in crime. A professional criminal may become so notorious and so well known to the police of New York, example, that he does not dare set a foot in that city, but he may go to Chicago, or any other city, large or small, and operate with a great degree of impunity. He changes his name and even should he be arrested for the commission of a crime of the sort for which he has a record in another city the chances are that he will not be recognized as a professional, and may either escape punishment entirely, or, in any event, he may not be punished in a manner warranted by his criminal record and true character.

This applies to all criminals—equally to the burglar, the incendiary, who starts fires for the purpose of realizing insurance, the mercantile swindler who stocks a store with goods on credit and then conveniently fails, the pickpocket, the bank sneak-thief, and the rogues of high and low degree.

The functions of the proposed National Police bureau, as set forth in the measure urged upon congress, include the following:

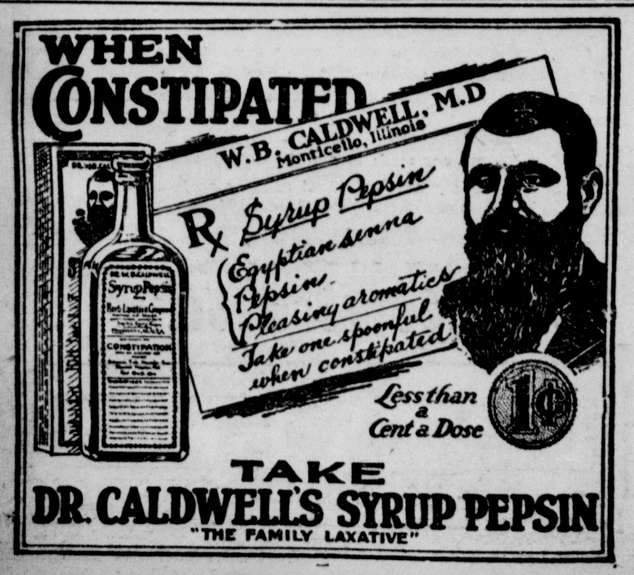

To gather, receive, compile, collate, study, investigate and file for reference, and properly distribute and make available to the interested or appropriate police authorities, police information and criminal intelligence throughout the country; to act as a national clearing house of crime records, criminal identifications, crime statistics, and information respecting crimes of interstate, national or international concern; to investigate, conduct studies of and make recommendations as to the standardization of police methods and procedure throughout the country; to maintain contact between the police authorities of this country and the police departments of foreign countries, and to conduct a criminal laboratory.

In the judgment of the police profession a National Police bureau must not be an agency through which arrests are made, nor must its functions be merged with those of an organization engaged in making arrests and criminal investigations of divers character. It must not exercise control over, nor interfere in, the autonomous administration and control of police departments or other police agencies, whether municipal, state or Federal.

One of the striking comments of Commissioner Enright is to the effect that in the United States every state line is a barrier to the police, although, obviously, no state line is a barrier to the criminal.

And, again, he says: "The way to stop crime is to organize the police nationally. Criminals use all modern scientific appliances. America's police as a whole do not. They must or should be as enterprising as the lawbreakers."

Expect 250,000 Yankees to Go Abroad This Year

New York.—Shipping companies expect to carry 250,000 Americans to Europe this year and break the record of 245,592 set in 1913, the heaviest year in the history of eastbound transatlantic transportation.

The companies bank upon the heavy holy-year pilgrimage to Rome this summer to speed recovery of their pre-war stride.

"White-collar" travel in third cabins has been developed to offset the loss in steerage business caused by immigration quota laws here.

Tourists' third-cabin rates, agents of the companies say, have been placed within reach of patrons previously unable to afford a trip to Europe. Professional people, artists and university students figure principally in this new clientele.

Filled Pockets With Dollars And Heart With Happiness

Commercial Traveler Who Knocked Out A Bad Case of Catarrh of Stomach

Story of How He Saved His Job and Won Prosperity Through the World's Tonic.

"I was on the verge of losing my job on account of my sickness when I began the use of World's Tonic over a year ago. I want you to know that this past season has been the most successful I have ever had. I feel that I owe much of my prosperity and good health to the World's Tonic, and I am here to tell you so."

This frank statement as pleasing as a tuneful overture, was like music in the ears of the World's Tonic representative.

A traveling man from a large city concern of a national reputation, came to the World Tonic man many months ago seeking to escape the clutches of Catarrh of the Stomach, which gripped him like a vise. A few week's use of World's Tonic and he went back to the road, declaring he was stronger than ever before.

Recently he was in East Liverpool and it was during a call of appreciation that he gave World's Tonic credit for his happiness during the last twelve months. He says:

"When I called on a merchant I did not have strength enough to show my samples as I should. My sales fell off every rapidly and the house had another man picked to take my place. It was at this time I found World's Tonic. It has been a blessing to me and has put dollars in my pocket. I was troubled with my stomach and had used all kinds of stomach medicines without results. I was finally told I had cancer of the stomach. My arms and legs ached and I could hardly get through a day's work. Gas formed on my bad taste in my mouth at all times. stomach after each meal and I had a Upon arising each morning I would stooped over and get up quickly, dark spots would float before my eyes and at times I was so dizzy I would have spit up handsfull of mucus. If I to catch hold of something to keep from falling. My tongue was always coated and my breath heavy. My wife often told me it smelled like a garbage can. My head was stopped up and I caught cold easily. Nothing I used seemed to reach the spot until I began to use World's Tonic. From the first bottle I began to show improvement. World's Tonic certainly did the work for me. I am on the job every day. I don't have and can eat anything I want. My any more trouble with my stomach head is clear and I haven't had a cold this winter.'

Fielders Turn in Brilliant Performances; Seven Hits Collected by Each Club; Record Attendance for Early Season Clash.

The attendance almost equaling a local "baby world's series" contest, the City Industrial baseball league season at Newell was inaugurated on Saturday afternoon, Laughlin losing to the Trotters, 3 to 2, in a contest as brilliant as the occasion demanded.

The Potters had the tying and winning runs on the paths in the eighth after Smith, who had walked, finished on J. Strobel's error, V. Bailey's drive and Riser's out at first. Watson drew a pass, but Digman ended the chance for victory by flying to A. Bailey.

There was no scoring on either side until the fourth frame. Then Trotters annexed a run when Tisher muffed Pollock's long fly to right, the latter reaching second on the miscue and counting on Herbert's timely single through short.

The score was tied in the sixth when V. Bailey, singling, concluded the circuit on McGeehan's out at first and Watson's single.

In the seventh, Trotters forged to the front, Aufderheide scoring on his own double and V. Bailey's error on Hunselman's drive.

Herbert leaped into the air in the third inning and speared with his gloved hand H. Strobel's hard rap, headed for a safety.

Aufderheide fielded brilliantly in left for Trotters. V. Bailey, in the same territory, made a fine catch. E. Bailey accepted five chances at short and W. Mundy and Pollick likewise had even days at first, each garnering 13 assists without a wobble.

Barr and Digman allowed seven hits each. Digman whiffed five as against Barr's three and permitted one pass, while the latter walked three.

GOTHAM AWAITS BENEFIT BOUTS

Berlenbach-McTigue Will Top Milk Fund Card.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Barring the unforeseen return of Jack Dempsey to affairs of the fist, the best bout New York will see during the outdoor season will be held less than three weeks from today, the occasion being the annual milk fund show, the date May 29 and the principals, Mike McTigue and Paul Berlenbach. The match involves the essential combination of boxer versus fighter, which cannot be said to exist in the several remaining "shots" listed for the immediate future by local promoters.

Tex Rickard admitted today that he looked for Berlenbach to lift McTigue's light heavyweight title, which will come as a boon to mankind. He is hardly the most popular of ring champions, yet tossed in with a hasty young man like Berlenbach, he is due to put on the best exhibition he has yet given in an American ring.

McTigue will have to fight and when he has to, he can.

Berlenbach, on the other hand, has one chance and only one. He must get in close to land that murderous left of his and while he is engaged in this laudable endeavor, McTigue will be in an excellent position to indulge in his sharpshooting.

No matter what the outcome may be—a knockout for Berlenbach, a decision for McTigue—The writer can see only a great bout in prospect. Berlenbach will be hit a million times, more or less, but some time before the end of fifteen rounds, he is certain to hit McTigue once. And once may be ample, sufficient and enough.

He is, perhaps the only "one punch man," most popular of all fighters, before the boxing public today. Dempsey has beaten only one good man with a punch, to wit, Fred Fulton, and that young man has the floor complex. Nearly all of Berlenbach's knockouts have been one punch affairs. He hits them, they go.

But trying to hit McTigue is like taking careful aim at a butterfly with a sixteen pound shot. He is somewhat elusive.

Mochaetl may have something else to display at that. He claims he fought Walker, Stribling and others during the last two years with only a left hand. His right, he says, was smashed in the Siki fight, and remained, as was, until several months ago. Then a small segment of bone was removed by a local surgeon, and the result, according to McTigue, has been extremely beneficient. He claims he is twice the fighter he was, and Michael was never exactly a tramp, at that.

Mostil's Homer, With One on, Beats Nats

CHICAGO, May 11. — Johnny Mostil's home run drive into the left field bleachers with a runner on base broke up a 12-inning game yesterday and gave Chicago a 10 to 8 victory over Washington, before a crowd of more than 40,000 persons.

The world's champions went on a batting ramage in the sixth inning, driving Faber off the hill and with the aid of Connally's wildness scoring seven runs.

The Sox plugged along and tied the count in the eighth, when Gregg stepped in and checked the rally. Gregg weakened toward the finish. Lyons pitched great ball when he went to the mound.

With Dempsey Touring These Champs Draw Spotlight

Jack Dempsey has no idea of fighting until next fall if he fights at all this year. So the choicest tit-bit offered ring fans so far for the early summer is the bout booked between Harry Greb, middleweight champion of the world, and Mickey Walker, welterweight King. They will meet June 19 at the Polo grounds, New York city. Greb's title will be at stake. Photo shows Walker, left, matchmaker Jimmy De Forest, center, and Greb.

Aquatic Star

By Central Press

CHICAGO, May — That Miss Ethel Lackie, swimming star of the Illinois Athletic Club, is set to make things interesting for her sisters this season is indicated by her achievements todate, including the recent brilliant feats of the swimming 100 yards in a 75-foot pool in 1 minute, 3 and 3-5 seconds, and the negotiating of 220 yards in a 60-foot pool in 2 minutes, 45 seconds.

Miss Lackie tied a world's record in winning the 100-meter swim, free style, in the Olympic games at Paris last summer. Her time for the event was 1 minute, 12 and 3-5 seconds. In February this year she made a new world's record for that distance by clipping the three-fifths off her Olympic time. A few days later, at Tampa, Fla., she was credited with doing 100 meters in 1 minute, 10 and 1-5 seconds.

Giants Win Third of Series From Cards

NEW YORK, May 11.—The New York Giants won the third game of the series from St. Louis yesterday, 8 to 3. Jack Bentley pitched his fourth straight victory. Kelly hit a home run, with Young on base, in the third inning.

DERBY STARS AT LOUISVILLE

Several Candidates Have Workouts on Sloppy Track.

By THOMAS TEMPLE HOYNE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 11.—Eastern Derby candidates were present at Churchill Downs today. Sweeping Away and Prince of Bourbon, of the Xatapa farm stable; Almade, Hal Price Headley's colt that ran a bang-up race in the Preakness on Friday and finished third; and Single Foot, E. Griffith's colt, that was said to have been knocked out of it in the jam at the turn off the stretch in the Preakness, are now stabled here and will get their final preparation this week.

Chief Uncas is due tomorrow. So is Flying Ebony, a possible starter in the Derby. This is hte G. A. Cochran colt that last year on Derby day won a race for two-year-olds, duplicating the performance of Black Gold the year before. Tomorrow Trainer Jimmy Rowe is due about the same time with the Whitney horses, presumably Backbone and Chantey, and Bud Fisher's Swope is supposed to be enroute, although no certain notification of that has been received here.

All Saturday night it rained hard and most of yesterday a drizzle was falling, but a considerable crowd of enthusiasts went out to Churchill Downs nevertheless during the forenoon and were rewarded for their trouble by seeing a couple of the Derby colts in action.

Step Along, wearing blankets, with Jockey Lee Canfield in the saddle, stepped a mile through the sloppy going in 1:43 2-5. This colt is supposed by many not to like the mud. He didn't act that way yesterday. He went through it like a barefoot boy through a mud puddle.

But the same was not true of Kentucky Cardinal, which was sent three uarters in 1:16. Though he exhibited no sign of distress at the end, he slipped and floundered around all the way.

Between the first and second races Frederick Johnson sent his colt, Quatrain, a mile and a furlong for a public trial. He carried the mile and eighth in 1:56 4-5 and calloped out another furlong to make the mile and a quarter in 2:11 3-5.

Johnson will not send Quatrain to the post between now and derby day. He is satisfied that the derby favorite is ready for the big race, and needs no more really hard work.

Yankees Beat Browns By Top-heavy Score

ST. LOUIS, May 11.—Five pitchers for the Brown were unable to stop the Yankees, who won yesterday's game, 13 to 1. Taking an early lead the Yankees held it throughout the contest.

Four Yanks in British Meet.

LONDON, May 11—Four Americans will compete in the British amateur golf championship starting at Westward Ho—May 25. They are: J. F. Bailey of Oak Hills; R. A. Stranahan of Inverness, Toledo; A. Bourne, of Garden City, N. Y., and Lois Van Uxen Cochran, of Onwentsia, Chicago.

Cochran will meet A. D. Mathieson, former boy champion, in the first round. The others drew byes.

SPORT SPARKS

If Philadelphia is the Sleepy City, the Athletics and the Phillies are the kind of sleepers found at race tracks. At any given moment they are likely to give the best team in the country a sound drubbing.

"Ruthless" means "helpless" to the Yankees.

The smoke of baseballs' opening battles has cleared away, and several clubs find themselves in what experts regard as the wrong pew. In the National league the slump of the Pirates has been the big surprise. The Phillies have been shooting away over their heads and the Dodgers have failed to hit their stride.

In the American league, the Yanks and the Tigers have stalled, while the Athletics and the Indians have been making more miles to the gallon than was deemed possible. The good work of the White Sox has brought a chorus of "I told you so's" from the many admirers of Edward Trowbridge Collins.

The Red Sox are in the rear rank, and, like General Grant, evidently will fight it out on that line all summer.

The Reds have not yet been in the cellar, but unfortunately several prohibition agents visited Garry Herrmann's cellar. Deprived of their invigorating lager, it is feared that the Reds will fade away to nothing on their diet of aqua pura and slip unresistingly into the depths of the second division.

Tigers Hammer Five Boston Hurlers, 13-5

DETROIT, May 11.—Five Boston pitchers failed to stop the Tigers yesterday and Detroit, belaying them for 15 hits, five of which were three baggers, smashed out a 13 to 5 victory before a crowd of 25,000.

Three Boston errors also figured in the scoring. Seven three-base hits were made. The games was played under leaden skies that added to the effectiveness of Stoner's fast ball.

Salem Athletes Are Victors Over County Foes In Annual Meet

Quaker City Runner Wins Half-mile Race With Deep Spike Wound in Ankle; Two Old Records are Toppled.

An exhibition of sheer grit and nerve by a Salem high school boy, who, with a deep spike wound in his right ankle from which blood dripped a trail around the track, and running with only one shoe, won the half mile race in the remarkably fast time of 2 minutes and 9 seconds; the breaking of a county shot put record which has stood supreme from 1912; the three-times shattering of a discus mark made in 1921, and a thrilling mile relay finish that produced a slam bang climax to the entire card—these were the high spots in the twenty-second annual county interscholastic track and field meet Saturday at Lisbon fair ground.

Salem walked off with meet honors, scoring a total of 41 and 5-6 points; East Palestine finished second with a score of 25½ points after a thrilling battle with Wellsville, who landed third, with a score of 22 1-3 points. Leetonia was fourth with 19 1-3; Lisbon fifth with 16 1-3; Columbiana sixth, 14 1-3; East Liverpool seventh, with 4.

Salem landed points both on the track and in the field, as did East Palestine. Wellsville demonstrated field strength but with the exception of the quarter mile run, was only a passive performer on the track.

East Liverpool's points were recorded in the 100-yard dash and the mile relay. Kreefer placed fourth in the century run and the local relay squad finished second to Salem.

The first thrill of the afternoon was furnished when Perkins of Salem captured the half mile run, after running all save a little less than 100 yards with a spike wound in his right ankle. At the first curve in the track a runner at Perkins' side tripped and fell. The athlete immediately behind the man who fell was forced to jump the fallen runner, so suddenly did the accident occur, and when he leaped his spikes tore into Perkins' right ankle and pulled off his shoe. But Perkins carried on and with a margin that only a Nurmi could beat, finished far ahead of the field, only a little more than a second behind the county record. The lad fell in a heap at the finish mark and was carried to his dressing room. There a physician took five stitches in the cut.

The shot put record of 43 feet 11 inches, made by Hum, of Lisbon, which since 1912 has withstood the assaults of numerous athletes, finally fell, when Banks, diminutive Wellsville star, heaved the iron pellet a distance of 44 feet and 9 inches. Arbaugh, also of Wellsville, bettered Bank's mark by an inch, but on that particular throw he fouled and was disqualified and in later attempts he was unable to repeat.

To Schapernocker, East Palestine, goes honor for a new county mark in the discus throw.

One thrill after another swept the crowd of meet fans in this event, as the old record of 106 feet 2 inches, established by Alexander, of Salem, in 1921, was broken in three consecutive heaves by three athletes of different schools. The thrills were reserved for the finals in the event when Pignatore, of Wellsville, first into the ring, swung the discus for a distance of 106 feet 6¾ inches. Houser, of Salem, took his place and the grand stand was again electrified when the judges announced that the Quaker City boy had bettered Pignatore's toss by an inch and a quarter. The climax came when Schapernocker, not even regarded as a serious contender, and the next man up, tossed the iron for a distance of 108 feet 11¾ inches, and that mark stood without dispute.

A thrilling relay finish brought the meet to a close with Salem breaking the worsted only a few feet in advance of East Liverpool's runner, who, in turn, was but a step or so ahead of Wellsville.

The Reds knocked Osborne out of the box and overcame a six-run lead in the eighth inning, and forged ahead by two runs in the twelfth, when Roush hit a home run, with Pinelli on base.

Luque, Red pitcher, was removed from the game in the fifth inning when he threw his bat at Osborne after being hit by a pitched ball.

What's Wrong With 'Em?

Ty Cobb, manager of the Detroit Tigers, may be asking himself that question as he studies his team at play. Apparently fortified in the infield and strengthened in the pitching staff the Tigers loomed as a formidable outfit a few weeks ago. But so far they have been kittens instead of Tigers.

Tagging The Bases

Adolfo Luque won the bat throwing contest, Umpire Rigler gained a rolling fall over "Tiny" Osborne and the Dodgers won the ball game from the Reds, 9 to 8, in the 12th inning on Taylor's pinch double with three on. Luque hurled his bat at Osborne when hit by a pitched ball and was elected. Osborne rushed the Cuban and was thrown behind his own goal line by Rigler. A fine time was had by all.

In spite of the fact that Sisler hit safely in his 25th consecutive game the Yankees ran amuck against Wingard, Grant, Stauffer and Falk and beat the Browns, 13 to 1.

Mostil's homer off Gregg with one on staked the White Sox to a 10 to 8 decision over the Senators.

The Tigers mauled five Red Sox pitchers and won going away by a score of 13 to 5.

RETIRED FARMER APPRECIATES LIFE

Morgantown Resident Dates All Events From Time He First Took Ka-di-ok—Results Are Lasting.

MR. STARK DANIELS
Morgantown, W. Va.

Mr. Stark Daniels, a retired farmer, now living at No. 3 Locust street, Morgantown, W. Va., offers himself as an example of what Ka-di-ok, the wonderful stomach tonic and system builder, will do for a system which was broken down a year ago, rebuilt in a couple of months, and which "stays put."

Mr. Daniels was one of the first devotees to Ka-di-ok when it was introduced in Morgantown, about a year ago. At that time he was suffering from indigestion with all the attendant ills. He took a treatment of Ka-di-ok at that time. Recently he met the Ka-di-ok representative and stated that as a result of his recovery through the use of Ka-di-ok, he started other members of his family taking it, with just as successful results as in his own case. "It made me appreciate life," he said. "I like Ka-di-ok; it is our family medicine chest; we always keep it on hand."

So one can see by the experience of Mr. Daniels and others that Ka-di-ok leaves a lasting impression. Its results are final; there are no harmful, habit-forming drugs in its preparation, and the results achieved through this wonderful and marvelous medicine are lasting.

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathews' Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 W. 6th street.
